County Politics Extends to Saigon

San Mateo County's wildly wonderful congressional race ranged from Saigon to Searsville Lake last weekend with a balloon that never got off the ground tossed in for spice.

In Saigon, Democrat Dan Monaco told reporters that he believed the war in Vietnam could be resolved through a giant peace offensive. Monaco is in Saigon for a six-day briefing. As he left yesterday he was be replaced by Republican William Draper who departed here over the weekend, also on a fact-finding survey to Vietnam.

At Searsville Lake, Republican Paul McCloskey entertained some 3,000 picnickers with free beer, popcorn, soda pop, Irish songs and dances and "mariachis" in this area's biggest "old-fashioned" political gathering.

In San Mateo Saturday, Republican "dove" Gregory Sims failed to get his hot-air balloon off the ground in Central Park. Strong winds kept the balloon tethered as he and his Pilot Deke Sonnichsen promised they will try to ascend again next Saturday at 5 p.m.

Monaco, a San Mateo attorney and long-time Democratic leader, expanded on his peace offensive proram in Saigon.

He said, "If we knew there was no risk of further escalation, if we could believe Communist China would not enter the picture, then I would say let's stick it out and let's put our emphasis on the pacification program," Monaco said in an interview.

"But, if we're going to face these risks, then an all-out peace offensive may be the answer."

Monaco said this could be accomplished through the help of the United Nations and "the various peace groups."

Singling out the Quakers as one of these groups, Monaco said President Johnson might call on peace organizations who in turn might be able to draw out the North Vietnamese government "in the face of public opinion."

Monaco is in Saigon on a six-day "fact-finding mission." While declaring that such a tour was too short to "really get below the surface," he said the Vietnamese war issue was foremost in the campaign, and "this is the least a candidate can do."

Monaco said he believed a Democratic victory in his heavily Republican district might be interpreted as a "trend," offsetting any national Democratic slump.

"I believe if I won, the red carpet would be rolled out for me in Washington and LBJ would lend an ear," he said.

Monaco said he believed he would pick up a large Republican vote in the conservative San Mateo County district if he were to win the Democratic candidacy and enter the election against Mrs. Black.

He said polls run by his campaign workers indicated many Republicans would vote for a Democrat rather than for the former actress.

"Many women feel that as a mother and a woman with children she ought to stay home," he said. "I don't necessarily agree, but that's what they're saying."

"Other people feel she has no qualifications, she's never been involved in politics before," he said.

"But a lot of people are going to vote for her because she's Shirley — just the same as they voted for Ronald because he's Ronald."

The Ronald he meant is Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

S.S.F. Parking Ban Move Is Delayed

South San Francisco councilmen postponed scheduled public hearings on several matters pertaining to parking regulations in the city's industrial park area, in order to allow firms in the district to "further resolve their differences."

The city's Industrial Park Association several weeks ago requested an ordinance change which would ban "on-street" parking in the district but some of the firms in the area have voiced opposition to the parking ban.

The city's planning commission and planner Daniel Pass have proposed an ordinance amendment increasing off-street parking requirements of firms in the district in connection with the proposed on-street parking ban.

The schedul . hearing on this amendment was also postponed.

A hearing on a planning commission resolution to rezone a 180-acre parcel in Westborough to a "planned community" was also continued until the next council meeting because of pending legal arrangements.

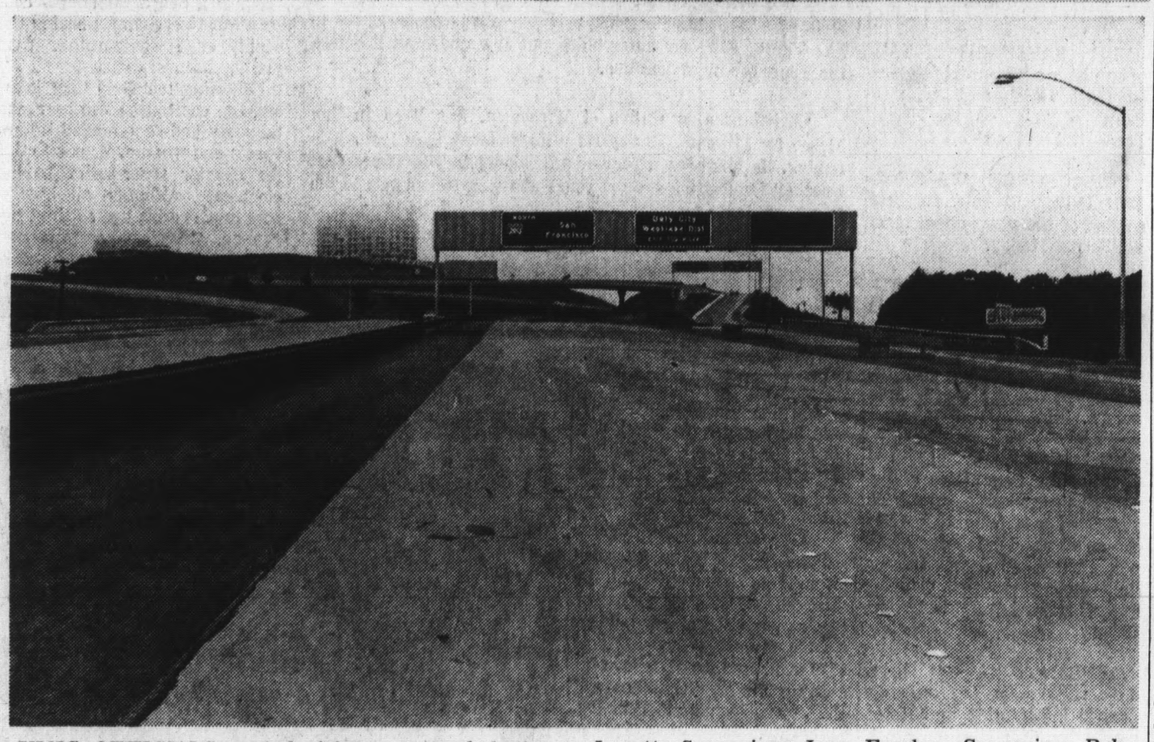

The hearing on the zoning change, which was requested by the Westborough developers, Caesar-Dallan Home, Inc., has been continued on the council agenda for several months.

The council voted to accept an "informal bid" from the Lowrie Pavement Co., for improvements at the temporary park site at Oakmont and Westborough Boulevard in the Westborough Community.

The firm's bid of $2,710 was the lowest of several entered on the project.

Another Freeway Link In North County

CIVIC OFFICIALS and legislators attended the opening of the newest 3½-mile stretch of Junipero Serra Freeway last Wednesday. In upper photo councilmen from Daly City and South San Francisco join in the ribbon cutting. In foreground are Supervisor James Fitzgerald, Daly City Mayor Bud Lycett, Supervisor Jean Fassler, Supervisor Bob St. Clair, Assemblyman Leo Ryan, and South San Francisco Mayor Patrick Ahern. Lower photo shows the new freeway looking north with Mary's Help Hospital in the rear. (Post Photo)

Guadalupe Canyon Road Opening Set

The new Guadalupe Canyon Parkway linking the Old Bayshore Highway at Brisbane and the new stretch of Junipero Serra Freeway in Daly City will open to traffic Thursday.

Ribbon-cutting ceremonies for the $1,596,000 project will take place on Boneyard Hill midway on the new road at 11 a.m. Thursday, according to Donald S. Wilson, San Mateo County engineer-road commissioner.

Officials of both San Mateo County and the Crocker Land Co., who jointly undertook the road-building, will be present at the dedication ceremonies.

Cutting across San Bruno Mountain, the new road will open with two lanes Thursday, and will later be enlarged to four lanes.

Pacifica Scenic, Park Standards Measure Tabled

Pacifica planning commissioners Monday voted to "table indefinitely" a proposal to formulate an ordinance establishing standards for parks, greenbelts and natural scenic improvements in the city at the request of City Manager C. W. Masonheimer.

Masonheimer suggested that the matter be postponed until the city's general plan study is underway.

Planning commission consultant Warren Jones also strongly recommended that the ordinance be postponed until the general plan study is undertaken.

Commissioners said the city has received "informal and unofficial information that the 701 application for general plan study funds has been approved by the State Planning Office, and the study funds has been approved by the State Planning Office, and the study should be underway within a few months."

Until the new ordinance is formulated and adopted, the city will continue to use its existing policy statement as a guide, planners said.

In other business at Monday's meeting, commissioners granted a use permit and site development permit requested by Thomas L. Lewis for a retail store adjacent to 4300 Coast Highway.

A similar use permit and site development permit was granted for construction of a church

Bruno Used Car Dealers Ordered To 'Spruce Up'

San Bruno planning commissioners placed the city's used car dealers on notice this week of an impending crackdown on "unkempt and unsightly" premises.

A recent survey of car lots in the area revealed that five fail to meet minimum city standards, according to Commissioner Donald Risso, and the five operators were advised to produce plans for proper landscaping of the lots by November 6.

If satisfactory plans are not submitted by the specified date, the commission will initiate procedures to withdraw the dealers' operating permits, a city spokesman said.

Four of the automobile dealers appeared at the commission meeting Monday.

In other business at the meeting, representatives of the A & Root beer Co. presented plans for their proposed drive-in restaurant on San Bruno Avenue.

Commissioners accepted the plans for review, but took no formal action.

The proposed restaurant caused a furor among several residents of the area when the firm first made application several months ago.

Planning commissioners and the city council approved the project after a number of lengthy hearings.

8 Narcotics Bookings In Pacifica

A carload of eight young persons were arrested on narcotics charges in Pacifica early on Tuesday after police discovered a large quantity of marijuana in their automobile.

Officers Ed Boll, Rod Sinclair and Charles Roberts arrested the eight "hippie types" on the Cabrillo Highway near the D and B Truck Stop about 3 a.m.

The officers who became suspicious when two of the passengers from the car entered the truck stop with knives on their belts, searched the vehicle.

A number of half-smoked marijuana cigarettes were found in the glove compartment, and a further search produced about a kilo-and-a-half of marijuana from the trunk.

Officers said occupants of the car, all in their late teens or early twenties, said they were hitchhiking "from down south" and caught a ride with the driver and owner, Norman E. Knickerbooker, 423 Wildwood Drive, South San Francisco.

One of the passengers admitted they had been "passing around a joint" on the way up from San Jose, police said.

Arrested and booked on charges of possession and transportation of marijuana were Knickerbocker; Bernadette Gomez and Randall Lee, San Jose; Charles L. Chaffin, Huntington Beach; David S. Gross and Michael Lujan, San Francisco; Carolyn Forseth, Napa, and Ray Jones, Venice.

Equality In Construction Is Promoted

Three North Peninsula educators are among the 20 members of a new committee undertaking a program "to promote equality of employment opportunity in the construction industry in San Mateo County."

Named to the group, which includes labor, management and education leaders from throughout the county, were Thomas Gaffney, director of secondary education for the South San Francisco Unified School District, and Floyd Hunter coordinator of vocational education in the district.

Traffic Flows On Serra Extension

The latest 3½-mile stretch of the Junipero Serra Freeway (Interstate 280) was dedicated last week and the first public travel on the new four-lane southbound portion of the highway began shortly after noon.

Over 100 civic leaders, state, municipal, county and federal officials gathered in the middle of the northbound freeway section just south of Eastmoor Avenue for formal ribbon cutting and dedicatory speeches.

As the ceremony progressed, pre-opening touches continued to be made by workmen behind barricades that diverted through traffic off the section completed last year and up a ramp onto old Junipero Serra Boulevard.

Other workers stood by to remove quickly the portable speakers' platform and barricades while a sandblaster erased an old speed limit marking on the concrete.

Spectators listened as South San Francisco Mayor Patrick Ahern introduced the speakers, who praised the contractors, city officials, the state division of highways, and the general citizenry for their "cooperation" and efforts.

The 11 a.m. ceremony was the first of two get-togethers in observance of the freeway sections completion.

The second was a luncheon, hosted by South San Francisco and Daly City Chambers of Commerce, at the Lake Merced Golf and Country Club.

First to speak at the freeway ribbon-cutting event at the freeway, Assemblyman Leo Ryan described the new section of road as a "very welcome addition to the freeway."

He added, "I hope we can get the rest of it done."

Arthur Haylor, deputy regional highway engineer, thought "it is a nice time of the year to get the job done," before fall rains.

A Guy Atkinson Co. representative — the contractor's in Europe — said he found state and Daly City and South San Fran-

Hearing on an application from Wade McClure on behalf of Lee Bros. Market for a non-conforming sign at the market in Eureka Square was continued until Oct. 16, along with a permit request from Lester Rootman for a commercial addition at the corner of Bancroft Way and Waterford Street.

A variance extension was granted to Theodore Thornton, and a permit for site development for a parish center for St. Peter's Church was approved.

The new center will be located on Oddstad Boulevard.

The commission also approved a variance request for a six-foot fence in an area where the building code allows only a three-foot maximum.

The applicant, Arthur Lee 398 Beverly Place, said the higher fence is needed to contain his German shepherd dog.

Jeff High Offers New Adult Class

Two Basic Education sections have been added to the Jefferson High School District's Adult Division, it was announced today.

Basic Education, which concerns itself with the development of reading ability, language skills and mathematical computations, will be offered Monday and Wednesday nights, from 7 to 10 p.m.

John Redmond, Adult School principal, said master of these subject areas "offers an opportunity for an elementary education certificate."

He added that any person who, for whatever reason, might not have completed an eighth grade certificate can do so at Jefferson Adult Education Division school.

The courses will be offered at the Jefferson High School, 6996 Mission Street, Daly City.

COLMA INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL students Dewey Johnson, left, Henry Diaz, center, and John Healy, right, admire trophies to be given October 14 in the Seventh Annual Punt, Kick and Pass Contest in Daly City. Looking on are Pete Lampros, left, a representative of Williams Ford Co., and Mickey Corso, Daly City recreation supervisor. The punt, pass and kick contest is open to boys 8 to 13 years old, and is jointly sponsored by the Ford Motor Co. and the National Football League. Local winners will compete in regional and national events, the sponsors said. Boys interested in participating in the local competition must register at the Williams Ford Co. or a neighborhood playground by October 6.

Supervisor James Fitzgerald of San Bruno congratulated the State Division of Highways, and saw this Junipero Serra segment as a "wonderful addition to our system of roads." He also hoped "we can all get together and get it built all the way to San Jose."

Supervisor Bob St. Clair of Millbrae, a former Daly City councilman, cited council apprehension "back in '58" when leaders watched warily as the "concrete centipede" moved closer to the Peninsula "gateway."

He said Daly City at first was "scared" of that "gigantic monster" called the State Division of Highways.

A "war" over route location followed, St. Clair recalled, but "we finally sat down at the peace table and negotiated."

He agreed yesterday that "everyone involved certainly is to be commended."

F. D. Minucciani, of the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, viewed the road as "another large step" in solving the area's traffic problems.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett of Daly City commented that he "feels like a relay man," meaning the next freeway extension project will fall more deeply into South San Francisco.

County Board of Supervisors chairman, Mrs. Jean Fassler, had her eyes focused on the beautification phase of the project — the "instant trees" in particular.

She said she was "impressed" by the transplanting of trees taken from an area ahead in certain sections overlooking, and adjacent to the new freeway.

She thought this was "a tremendous accomplishment."

Other speakers were S. E. Farin, regional engineer for the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, and John P. Murphy, Deputy State Highway Engineer.

The brief ribbon snipping followed the talks.

Wielding scissors were Mayors Ahern and Lycett and Mrs. Fassler.

With that done, everone dashed to their cars for the round-trip up and down the new stretch, escorted by member of the California Highway Patrol and the Daly City police department.

Soon after, barricades were removed and traffic diverted to the new route, probably to be appreciated more by these motorists who were able to zip home faster, and with greater ease — at least as far as Westborough Boulevard — than when they drove to work.

Charter Study Meet Planned At Daly City

The last of a series of public meetings to be held in various San Mateo County cities by the Charter Study Committee is scheduled for 8 p.m. October 5 in city hall in Daly City.

In going into Daly City, the committee will find itself in the heart of the area from which the demand for the charter amendment came in the first place. It was members of the Daly City council, more than any others, who brought enough pressure to bear on the County Board of Supervisors to get the study started.

The proposal is to elect supervisors by district, rather than county-wide. Daly City officials and others believe the present system allows a supervisor to become entrenched in office, even though he may not be doing a good job of representing his own district. The opposing view is that the at large system makes for better government becanse a board member's concern must necessarily be for the county as a whole rather than just for his own district.

Following the Daly City hearing, the committee will continue its study and recommend before year's end whether or not to put the charter amendment to the electorate. Although all incumbent supervisors are against the change, they have indicated that they will feel duty-bound to act according to the committee's recommendation.

CAPSULES

MRS. VINCENT Murphy of Daly City will preside at the 8 p.m., October 10, meeting of the Riordan Guild in Chaminade Hall at Riordan High School. Final plans for the unit's "Fashions for All Seasons," a style show and luncheon, will be told.

CONGRESSIONAL candidates will appear at the October 9 "Candidates' Night," sponsored by the Mater Dolorosa Men's Club. The event will start at 8 p.m. in the Parish Hall, Miller and Forestview avenues, South San Francisco.

THE WOMEN'S Faculty Club of San Francisco State College will launch fall activities October 6 in the faculty dining room in The Commons on campus, from 3:30 to 5 p.m.

THE BAYSHORE P-TA'S membership drive was launched October 1 with a theme of "Get on the Right Track, Get on the P-TA Line."

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON P-TA will hold its first session of the new school term at 7:30 p.m. today.

OUR LADY OF PERPETUAL HELP Mothers' Club is sponsoring a candy sale through October 13. Sixth, seventh and eighth grade students are canvassing Daly City area homes.

THE Community Cultural Coordinating Committee of Pacifica will sponsor a used book sale October 7, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Linda Mar Shopping Center. Proceeds will be used to purchase listening equipment and records for the library.

APPLICATIONS are being accepted at the recently opened Information and Referral Center, 6634 Mission Street, Daly City, for two positions — a clerk-bookkeeper and a community aide, according to the Rev. Howard Bryant, executive director.

A "COFFEE With Shirley" will be held at 7:30 p.m. today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Collins at 388 Northaven Drive. Congressional Candidate Shirley Temple Black will be honored at this gathering, as well as one to follow at the William O'Rourke home at 312 Higate Drive.

TWO SPECIAL events are planned to commemorate the third annual Men's Day at the Second Baptist Church October 8 — a father-son breakfast at 7:30 a.m. and an 11 a.m. worship hour in the Coral Room of the War Memorial Building, Daly City.

THE JEFFERSON Elementary P-TA will hold a "Meet the Teachers Night" at 7:30 o'clock today in the multi-use room of the Jefferson Elementary School.

Teen Band Auditions In Pacifica

Auditions of teen bands to play at the Pacifica Tenth Anniversary teen dance, party, band battle and light show at Oceana High School October 14 will be conducted today and tomorrow.

Today's audition will be held in the Oceana cafeteria from 4 to 5:30 p.m. The auditions tomorrow will be at Terra Nova High's cafeteria, at the same hour.

One or more members of each competing band must be a student of the school where they will audition.

A panel of students from both schools will select two bands from each school to compete for a $100 first award, with the three runners-up to receive $25.

San Mateo Mailman Wins Grid Tickets

A San Mateo mailman is the third week's winner in The Times-Post Football Contest.

Al Christiansen, 3913 O'Neill Drive, San Mateo, won first prize of two tickets to the California-Stanford Big Game by naming 14 of the 15 games correctly. He, along with many others, missed the upset of Purdue over Notre Dame.

Those who picked 13 winners included Irene Schneider of Daly City; L. Vautrot and Joe Soldevila of Pacifica; Gary Shingleton of South San Francisco; R. B. Casutt and B. L. Dreyer of San Bruno; John Arnolfo of Millbrae; John Brawner of Hillsborough; Jack Muzio, Charles Huggenberger Jr., A. L. Copeland, and Mrs. James Cason of San Mateo; Bill Rea of Belmont; Bob Ulrich of San Carlos; and Jack Schipper of Redwood City.

Since there was not a cash winner, this week's prize is $100, plus $50 bonus for being a home-delivered subscriber to The Times. Fill your entry blank out now and mail it before the Thursday night deadline.

Christiansen, a native of Wisconsin, has lived in San Mateo for 17 years. His sports interest other than football is fishing. He has been a regular participant in The Times-Post Football Contest for several years and won two tickets to the Big Game last year, also.

Snow Falls in Daly City??

Three to six inches of snow is forecast for Daly City around October 21. Instead of falling from the sky in the accepted manner, it will be sprayed from an ice-shaving machine on to a 120-foot "bunny hill" at the new Snow Hills Ski School, 2123 Junipero Serra.

The artificial hill, forty feet wide with a seventeen percent slope, is the brainchild of Paul Ballmer, a twenty-eight year old Stanford student, who has parlayed a thesis on the feasibility of artificial ski areas into a highly successful business. His first taski slope made its frosty debut in Los Altos a year ago. And, since then, over 1300 students have stem-turned their way to graduation.

The hill is covered each day with shaved ice snow, blown from a machine over a coco-matting base to form depths ranging from three to six inches. The whole process takes no more than twenty minutes. "We think it's better than the real thing," says Balmer, "because we have consistent snow conditions. It's not like the Sierras where one day you have an icy snow, and the next, dry powder."

SNOW PLOWING IN the suburbs — Joni Morrison, certified instructor at the unique Snow Hills Ski Slopes in Los Altos and Daly City, gets a future champion off to a good start. A special ice shaving machine "snows" the slopes daily with three to six inches of shaved ice snow.

Ballmer has come with the answer to the beginning skier's prayer — a complete learn-to-ski package that starts, so to speak, right in your own back yard and graduates to an advanced lesson at Boreal Ridge Ski Resort. Novices can learn the art of survival and experts brush up on their techniques, before heading for the mountains. Lessons are completed within ten days and are comparable to two weekends in the Sierras.

Sven Coomer, who will manage the Daly City School, has over seven years teaching experience in European, Australian, and American Ski Schools. Twenty-seven-year-old Sven, was one of a five-man expedition that traversed the Alps on skis . . . a seven hundred mile trek.

'Pot' At End Of A Trail

Hunt for Cycle Leads to Drugs

A 16-year-old Pacifica youth was arrested on grand theft and marijuana possession charges Sunday after the victim of a motorcycle theft spotted the cycle in the backyard of the suspect.

Picked up by Pacifica police and confined to Hillcrest was a Heathcliff Drive youth.

A Pacifica police spokesman said James Vernon Day of 630 Hickey Boulevard reported last week the theft of his motorcycle.

Day reported Sunday he had discovered the cycle in the rear yard of the Heathcliff Drive residence.

The authorities charged that in the home they found marijuana and a hypodermic needle.

Additionally, investigating officers asserted they discovered a zip gun, ammunition, a plain blade five inches long, three daggers, nudist magazines, two Nazi armbands and a wooden plaque with an iron cross.

The boy denied any knowledge of the marijuana or needles, police said.

S.S.F. Home Theft Is Told

A camera, radio and several pieces of jewelry were taken from a Gibbs Way residence in South San Francisco in a burglary Tuesday night, police reported.

Officers said the home of Evelyn Sanchez was broken into between 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. Tuesday. The missing items were valued at $126.

'Motivation' Experiment Launched; 60 Students

Sixty students from Jefferson High School in Daly City and the Colma Intermediate School have been selected to participate in an experimental county-wide "motivation training project."

Purpose of the project, which is being financed with federal funds through the San Mateo County PACE (Projects to Achieve Creativity in Education) program, is an attempt to teach underachieving students to "talk, think and act like persons who achieve well."

The project is based on research in the subject conducted over the past 20 years at Harvard University and other institutions, and will attempt to stimulate students to "set higher, but carefully planned and realistic goals for themselves."

It is designed for students with average intelligence who fail to perform in a satisfactory manner because of a lack of "achievement motivation."

Only male students will participate and the program is restricted to students of average intelligence, "because programs already exist for students of either exceptionally high or low intelligence," according to Kelvin Ryals, director of the project.

Half the students participating will attend weekend sessions at their regular school, and half will receive training in an "off-campus situation" at Jones Gulch in the La Honda-Pescadero area.

A total of 150 eighth and tenth grade students from Jefferson High, Colma, Sequoia High, McKinley Intermediate, Serra High, Our Lady of Angels, St. Timothy and St. Matthew School, will participate in the program this semester.

The groups will meet four weekends during the semester.

Map Plan For City

A "blue-ribbon" contingent of scores of Daly City citizens making up the new General Plan Advisory Committee already has sped into action after its formation only two weeks ago.

Described by Mayor Bernard Lycett as "one of the most select groups that could be picked in the Daly City area" for advising municipal officials and consultants in the area of long-range planning, the committee already has segregated itself into smaller, but key specialized units.

Seven such separate subcommittees will work in the areas of residential development, business and industry, community appearance, parks and recreation, schools, cultural and health care facilities, as well as traffic and transportation problems and potentials.

Lawrence Livingston, Jr., of Livingston and Blayney, City and Regional Planners, explained that the "committee can perform a great service if it realistically interprets ideas and inspirations of the citizenry" to the City Council.

Livingtston pointed out to the committee that the required elements of a general plan include land use, circulation, population densities and forecasts — all of which must be correlated. This, in turn, will enable the city to consider alternatives and to determine policies to govern the city" future development.

To provide coverage of the largest segments of the community, the city has named leaders of business, various authorities of government and schools and other civic groups to serve on the committee.

General Chairman of the Committee is Leonard Brown, with Tony DeMarlo the vice chairman and Mrs. Elsie Tunalli, general secretary.

Ryan Raps Trips By Two to Vietnam

By WILL THOMAS

Assemblyman Leo Ryan of South San Francisco last week suggested Congressional candidates in San Mateo County probably would do better to "address themselves to freeways" and their problems "than to go to Vietnam."

Ryan obviously was refering to candidates Daniel Monaco, who left the same day for personal inspection of Vietnam, and William Draper, who has announced he will go next week.

Ryan had a sympathetic, if not a captive audience for his "boost-freeways" pitch, Daly City and South San Francisco municipal and civic leaders and state and federal road officials.

They had gathered at Daly City's Lake Merced Golf and Country Club for a luncheon and a round of talks following formal opening of the second segment of the Junipero Serra Freeway (Interstate 280) to be completed in Daly City.

Interstate 280, with some portions of the just-finished project in South San Francisco and other stretches being completed between San Bruno and Millbrae, eventually will extend from San Francisco to Santa Clara Counties.

Assemblyman Ryan, who was honored at a testimonial dinner last night, was one of the speakers introduced at the noon luncheon by Daly City Mayor Bernard Lycett.

Ryan indicated that he was concerned over the handling of traffic after the major freeways in the area had been completed.

(He also hoped more would be built.)

He spoke of a need for more federal aid to help cities and counties widen and improve their roads which are "clogged, strangling" thoroughfares.

Ryan urged the Congressional candidates to work towards this end, rather than on the Vietnam issue, for instance, because he doubts over what the candidates could do about Vietnam anyway.

He wanted the surface-street problem dealt with, so that when cars "get off the freeway, they don't have to line up" to continue the trip.

"Having completed the highway system, it is very hard for city streets to handle them (the cars)," he declared.

He said the federal government should help cities to provide facilities "to handle traffic dumped off the freeways."

It is a "peculiar and serious problem" he said.

Arthur Haylor, deputy director of the State Division of Highways, District IV, recalled that planning the route of the Junipero Serra Freeway was one of his first chores upon assignment to the Bay Area.

He talked briefly about attempts to combine freeway safety with beauty, making particular reference to the transplanted trees, possible through the advent of what he called a "giant ice cream scoop."

Haylor also called the audience's attention to the unpainted, rusting divider rails. He described this as intentional; that a so-called natural "limited rusting" process would provide in about three months a brown coloration. This, Haylor said, would allow the north-south divider rails to blend in with the area.

He said that compromise was necessary to achieve both safety and aesthetics.

Haylor also disclosed that the stretch of freeway between San Bruno and Millbrae would be open about November 1.

The representative of the United States Bureau of Public Roads, S. E. Farin, who is regional engineer, complimented the area's leaders:

"You've gotten something done," unlike some neighboring communities, Farin explained.

As a result, he said, the citizenry can expect one-third as many fatal accidents and one-half as many mishaps altogether.

"Federal aid," he said, "is building something that improves safety."

Farin also commented that because if cities are to increase in size and number, improvement of transportation means is necessary.

While not opposed to mass transit networks, such as BART, Farin's bureau is not in favor of using motor vehicle tax proceeds from the highways.

Other luncheon speakers included John Wuerthner, president of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce, South San Francisco Mayor Patrick Ahern and Mayor Lycett.

'Visitor' Is Blamed In Truck Fire

Some "unauthorized visitor" slept in a truck parked at the California Fork Life Co. lot on Linden Avenue last night, and started a fire which resulted in more than $2,600 damage to two vehicles.

A fire department spokesman said a fire in a two-ton truck at the lot was apparently started from a cigarette.

The truck was gutted by flames, and another vehicle parked nearby also caught fire.

Employes at the company discovered the fire about 6 a.m. today, firemen said, and two units were dispatched to the scene.

Werder Tells Board Views

Supervisor William M. Werder spoke out last Wednesday to dispel any inference that he favors election of supervisors by district rather than at large.

Werder said the inference was drawn from a Channel 14 television debate Monday night because of a statement made by one of the panelists, South San Francisco newsman Ron Bates.

"I would prefer, selfishly speaking, to have to run only in my own district," Werder said. "But I know it makes for better government when each supervisor has to run throughout the county and be responsible to the voters of the entire county. And I believe I can speak for the entire Board of Supervisors when I say that."

The debate, in which South San Francisco Mayor Pat Ahern sided with Bates against A. C. Harrison, a former supervisor, and Redwood City newsman Ray Spangler, is to be reshown on Channel 14 Friday at 8 p.m.

$180 Theft At D.C. Home

Fernando Bravo, 53, reported to Daly City police last week the theft of $180 cash from his home at 115 Templeton Street, between 10:30 a.m. and 3:45 p.m. yesterday.

A garage door was forced open, police said.

Assemblyman Brown Gives 'Unrest' Talk to C.I.T.Y.

Judge Hupf Seats Unit's New Officers

Incoming officers for C.I.T.Y. (Commnity Interaction Thru You) were installed at impressive ceremonies by Judge Paul Huph, former city attorney of Daly City.

The new president is the Rev. Howard A. Bryant, pastor of Second Baptist Church Daly City.

Judge Huph pointed out the responsibility facing those who would take the lead in the social revolution taking place today.

He called upon the officers to gather the facts and then act.

Principal speaker for the evening was Assemblyman Willie L. Brown Jr. who spoke on "The causes and solutions for the unrest by the black man in urban and suburban America today."

The root cause said Attorney Brown, "Can be traced back to the years of slavery of the black man when he was brought to this country against his will over 400 years ago."

Post slavery days did not improve the plight of the Negro. Though he was physically freed he was psychologically kept in slavery, which is even worse, Brown declared.

The current rebellion, riots and lawlessness can be traced back to the techniques used by the slave to retalitate against the slave masters when they struck out against that which would not strike back against him, Brown said.

The solution to these problems, Brown said, can be obtained by "ridding ourselves of leadership by fear, by ridding ourselves of the inability to recognize the need for a comparable effort to ease the economic disadvantage of the black man and to keep open all lines of communication between the races."

Edison P-TA Plans Meet Next Week

"Back to School Night" at Thomas Edison Elementary School will be held October 12, in the school's auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

The teaching staff will be introduced by Principal John Belforte. After a short business meeting, parents are invited to visit with the teachers in their respective classrooms where they will discuss curriculum and plans for the coming year.

New officers of the Thomas Edison P-TA, to be introduced at the meeting, are Mrs. Roger Watts, president; Mrs. Edward Jose, vice-president; Mrs. Ronald Stopnick, treasurer; Mrs. Allan Goldfinger, recording secretary; Mrs. Lawrence Baldocchi, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Edward Ungaretti, financial secretary; Mrs. Robert Hansen, historian; Allan Goldfinger, auditor and Allen Abbott, parliamentarian.

THESE WOMEN—Mrs. William Mahoney, Mrs. Francis Toccalino, Mrs. George Bizon and Mrs. John Gilligan — recently were named to the Girl Scout Troop 2818 Committee in Daly City. Each Troop has such an advisory group made up of mothers. This group represents the Girl Scouts from the Vista Mar School. (Post Photo.)

Family Service Agency Would Explain Itself

Residents wondering just what the Family Service Agency of San Mateo County is will have a chance to find out Friday and Saturday at the Community Fair at the Linda Mar Shopping Center parking lot.

The ladies of the Pacifica Family Service Auxiliary, as well as dispensing free balloons for the kiddies, will invite those persons interested to sit down a while, join them in a cup of coffee and ask all the questions they wish.

The unit also will sell cook books, that contain tried-and-true recipes contributed by members of the Auxiliary, and illustrations by Mrs. Peter Hegedus, a local artist, who has just opened her one-woman art show at the Dal-Pak Gallery in Pacifica.

Cub Pack 248 Resumes Its Meeting Slate

Cub Pack 248 held their first mmeting of the new term in the Multi-Use Room of Thomas Edison School.

The Webelow Den opened the meeting with the flag ceremony.

Sam Lipson earned his Lion Badge and David Fish his Bear Badge, while a gold arrow went to Sam Lipson and Silver arrows to Craig Juster, Sam Lipson and John Schoolcraft. Two year pins went to Mike Hipshmann and one year pins to Robert Anthony and Tony Gerace.

The Inspection award was won by Den One and the Attendance award by Den Seven.

TERRA NOVA TOPICS

A Lively Personality

By MARIA MONTENEGRO

One of the livelier personalities to be found on the Terra Nova High campus is Mrs. Lorene Hall, attendance clerk.

Last warm Wednesday, Mrs. Hall was in one of her "dangerous" moods, and by lunchtime she had nine "dead bodies" behind her desk in the main office.

She had just finished off her last victim with her fly swatter when we appeared.

No bug spray cans for Mrs. Hall—her strategy is of a more hardy nature.

Mrs. Hall maintains that "all the funniest things" happen to her. She tells of the dismayed Freshman girl who came to her early one recent morning. The poor girl handed her a new shoe with a missing heel.

"Fix it!" she implored. The matter was resolved when the girl's mother brought her another pair from home.

Lately, there have been a few instances when Freshmen girls, still in their gym clothes, went into the main office to hand Mrs. Hall basketballs and request the bamboo pole for the swimming pool. Little do they know that when their gym teachers send them to the office it is to the locker room office.

On the same day as the fly massacre English instructor Steve Gillis entered the main office to borrow a stapler o "save a sole." Upon his return to Mrs. Hall's desk, they broke into a rousing duet of "Brighten the Corner Where You Are." Very apropos.

MRS. LORENE HALL
Hardy Swatter

COMMISSIONER OF Rallies and Entertainment Carol Sitts has launched her crusade for peppier rallies, the first featuring a wild pie-eating contest.

Four hardy male competitors representing each class sat down to their pie feast with hands tied behind their backs.

Soph Jeff Sakowski won spirit points for his class with his victory. Also making history with blueberry pie-on-the-face were Senior Dan Dugan, junior Gary Hughes, and freshman Jeff Bond.

The new outdoor bleachers were initiated at last Friday's rally held on the football field. A tricycle race was featured. Only this could follow up a pie-eating contest! Tricycle race and class election results in next week's column.

THE JEFFERSON SCENE

Everything 'A-OK'

By WENDY WOOLERY

After the hustle and bustle of the first few weeks it seems everything has settled down, to some extent.

The freshmen probaby know their way around the school better than the seniors, but that's life.

No more do we see frustrated teachers running around, mumbling to themselves or threatening to cut off someone's head.

Although the attendance office is rather calm and Rudi Tretten hasn't painted the "l u n g e s" yet, everything seems "A-OK."

FOR THE FIRST TIME in the 46-year history of the oldest school in the Jefferson Union High School District, psychology is being offered to students at Jeff. Jim Force, a senior counselor, teaches this class, offered mainly to Seniors. A one-semester class, it will be taught again next semester, because of the large number of sign-ups. Generally, the students enjoy the class.

DON KAMBIC is teaching German for the first time in 15 years. It was dropped at the feelings of Americans toward start of WWI because of the Germans. This year there are two classes of German, offered to anyone who wants to take the language.

THE DRAMA CLUB is sponsoring a fall production this year, along the lines of a variety show.

There will be two one-act plays, modern dance numbers, "living sculpture," a fashion show, folk-singing, and choral reading. Try-outs are being held the week of October 2. They also are going to show movies after school to raise money for the production.

SCHOOL pictures were taken last week, much to the dismay of just about every girl in the school.

WE had our first Sports Rally on September 29th. The new pep girls, varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders, the majorettes, and the mascot performed new routines. The varsity team was introduced to the student body.

JEFFERSON news co-editor, Jeannine Taylor, and the Tom-Tom photographer, D e n n i s Wong, were invited to the opening of the Information and Referral Center in Mission Street, in the former location of the Youth Employment Center. The center's purpose is to give information a n d assistance to the people in poverty areas.

Epsilon Alpha Meeting

Mrs. Lois Orent will welcome members of the Beta Sigma Chapter of Epsilon Alpha sorority to her San Bruno home this evening when members and prospective members gather for a "model business meeting."

According to publicity chairman Mrs. Harriet Misterman, a special feature of the gathering will be the talk on the sorority's educational aims, its history and its organization to be given by Mrs. Mybel Hughes of San Francisco.

Next on the agenda for rushees and members will be the Halloween dress up party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Godbont of Millbrae on October 27.

Mrs. Edward Kuehnoff is the 1967-68 sorority chapter president.

The lure of the islands will be facsimiled in the social hall of the Community Baptist Church in Westlake this afternoon as a part of a special Hawaiian Day luncheon, according to treasurer-publicist Willard Wagner of the Westlake Senior Citizens Club.

Mrs. Edith Barker is in charge of the arrangements for the Hawaiian decor, and the Nawrocki Trio will appear to present the program entitled Dances of the Islands.

The emphasis will be on Italian fashions, moods and fabrics when Livingston Bros. presents the latest in fashionable apparel during the fashion-luncheon Il Cuore della Moda, being sponsored by the Mary's Help Hospital Guild, according to Mrs. Shelly Mangini, publicity chairman for the annual style event.

Twelve charming guild members have been selected to model the fashions by model chairman Mrs. Frank Kelechava, Caroline Backman, Mrs. Ben Cardinalli, Mrs. C. J. Dunow, Mrs. Edward Fuchs, Mrs. Rodney Hamblin, Mrs. Frank Ingalls, Mrs. Donald Piercy, Mrs. Albert Polonsky, Mrs. Dante Ravelli, Mrs. Elwin Short, Mrs. Dino Tonelli and Mrs. George Torassa will promenade among the luncheon guests to the strains of music by the Maury Wolohan orchestra. In addition to the guild models, three college students, daughters of guild members, will be modeling styles for the younger contingent. The student models are Linda Bacciocco, Susan Falconi and Leslie Torassa. Coordinating and commentation will be done by Caroline Wolmuth of Livingston's.

According to Mrs. Clifton West, chairman of the gala, reservations have been selling rapidly and the sale will definitely close on October 13. Tickets for the benefit to be staged in the Venetian room of the Fairmont Hotel are being sold by Mrs. Andrew Ryan, 931-1475 and Mrs. John Swendsen, 334-0194.

Members of Nu Sigma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will meet Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Sheila McChesney for a regular monthly business meeting, according to Mrs. Marty Sugrue, publicity chairman.

Mrs. Dot Decker will be the evening's co-hostess and Mrs. Pat Cruz and Mrs. Lolita Smircich will present the meeting's cultural recitation entitled Her Crowning Glory, Mrs. Sugrue reports.

Next gathering for the members and the chapter's rushees will be a mixed rushing party with members of the Xi Xi Zeta chapter on October 28. Theme for the evening will be Halloween, Mrs. Sugure said.

Flowers in autumn tones will compliment the golden-yellow of the tableclothes in the Continental Ballroom of the San Francisco Hilton Hotel on October 14 when dinner-dance guests assemble for the annual Mercy Ball being sponsored by the Westlake Catholic Women of Our Lady of Mercy Church.

Ball chairman Mrs. James Kelleher and co-chairman Mrs. Lloyd Moulton have worked with Mrs. John McVeigh and Mrs. George Knight to select the theme and motif of the decorations for the evening, according to Mrs. Richard Galliani, publicity chairman.

Tickets for the ball are still available and anyone interested in attending is urged to call Mrs. McVeigh, 755-5936 or Mrs. Knight, 756-9354.

Members of the Daly City Community MORE MORE MORE Chorus are preparing to sing for the Fairmont P-TA meeting on October 12, according to word from Mrs. Ann Peters, publicity chairman for the group.

The chorus is beginning preparations for Christmas programs in December and the October 30 date to sing in the Cow Palace with the Ray Hackett orchestra.

Tomorrow evening the group will welcome everyone interested in joining to a rehearsal and social hour in the Westmoor Club house at 8 p.m. According to Mrs. Peters the chorus needs both male and female voices and everyone is welcome. New members Mrs. Barbara Greeno has been among those actively participating in the informal sing-a-longs which follow rehearsals and she performed The Impossible Dream last week during a birthday party given for accompanist Mrs. Janet Holden and director Dennis Desjardins following the rehearsal.

Recipes For Persimmon Jam

Good morning, good cooks.

Loyal and faithful readers, do you recall that about three weeks ago I asked for recipes for persimmon jam? Now persmmons are a rather exotic food and very seasonal, so there isn't exactly a wealth of recipes using them. But I always print recipe requests with full confidence that you gals will come through with flying colors and tasty recipes. My confidence was not misplaced, for you did just that.

The persimmon season is the fall of the year, and I haven't seen any in the markets yet. So I will have to wait, along with you, to try these interesting recipes.

Mrs. H. Anderson, 36 Willits St. in Daly City sent not one, but three recipes using persimmons. She writes that these recipes come from the Native Daughters of the Golden West Loyalty Cookbook.

PERSIMMON CONSERVE

1 cup persimmon pulp
1 cup sugar
2 lemons, finely cut
1 orange finely cut
1 can crushed pineapple

Cook until a small amount on saucer forms a skin when cooled. Jar while hot.

Mrs. Anderson adds that she usually uses about 6 cups each of persimmon pulp and sugar.

This recipe for persimmon pie sounds delicious, I imagine it looks and tastes a bit like pumpkin pie.

PERSIMMON PIE

2 eggs slightly beaten
¾ cup sugar
1⅔ cup evaporated milk
2 cups ripe persimmon pulp
¼ teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon ginger
1 unbaked 9" pie shell

Combine the two eggs with the three-fourths cup sugar, one and two-thirds cup milk, two cups persimmon pulp, one-fourth each cloves and ginger. Blend well and pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake in 425-degree oven for 15 minutes, reduce heat to 350-degrees and bake 45 minutes longer.

Serve with whipped cream or plain.

☆ ☆ ☆

ANOTHER GOOD COOK generaously shared her persimmon jam recipe with us. Mrs. Reid who lives at 1078 Mayfair Ave. in Daly City. She added that she has a recipe for persimmon pudding, if any of you gals are interested in this recipe just let me know.

PERSIMMON JAM

4 cups prepared fruit
juice of one lemon
7½ cups sugar
1 bottle liquid fruit pectin

To prepare the fruit: Peel about three pounds of fully ripe persimmons and mash the pulp. Or wash the persimmons, cut out the hard stem ends and bad spots and put through a potato ricer. The skins will remain in the ricer.

Measure the four cups mashed fruit into a large kettle; add the juice of one lemon and the 7½ cups sugar; mix well and bring quickly to boiling over high heat. Boil hard about one minute, then remove the kettle from heat and stir in the one bottle of liquid pectin.

Skim. Pour quickly into hot sterilized glasses and cover at once with paraffin.

Makes 11 six ounce glasses.

☆ ☆ ☆

ALL THESE RECIPES using persimmons sound delicious, don't they? Does a recipe for an exotic dinner using ground meat sound good to you, too? I hope so, for here's a goodie:

MEAT BALLS JAPANESE STYLE

1 lb. ground beef
¼ cup fine bread crumbs
2-3 cup chopped onion
1 teaspoon salt
dash of pepper
2-3 cup evaporated milk
2 tablespoons butter

Mix together the ground beef, one-fourth cup breadcrumbs, two-thirds cup chopped onion, one teas. salt, dash of pepper and two-thirds cup evaporated milk in a medium size mixing bowl. Shape into 12 meatballs.

Melt the two tablespoons butter in a large skillet over medium heat. Add the meat balls, turning occasionally to brown on all siddes.

Note: In place of fine dry bread crumbs, one of the following may be used as an extender; ¼ cup uncooked corn meal, or two-thirds cup rolled oats or 1 cup soft bread crumbs (approximately 1½ slices bread pulled into crumbs), or ¼ cup finely crushed corn flake crumbs, or ¼ cup cracker crumbs.

☆ ☆ ☆

WHILE THE MEAT BALLS are browning, combine the following ingredients.

1 can (1 lb. 3 oz.) bean sprouts
¼ cup corn starch
¼ cup water
¼ cup soy sauce
1½ cups thinly sliced onions
1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms (about 3 ounces)
1 cup shredded raw spinach

Drain the one can bean sprouts, saving liquid. Mix the one-fourth cup cornstarch and one-fourth cup water in a small bowl to make a smooth paste. Stir in the liquid from the bean sprouts (there should be 1½ cups; if not, add water to make that amount), then stir in the one-fourth cup soy sauce, mixing well.

Pour over browned meat balls. Bring to a boil over medium heat. Cover skillet tightly, turn heat to low and simmer until thickened and the sauce is clear, about 20 minutes. Add the one and one-half cup sliced onions, one cup mushrooms, one cup shredded spinach and drained bean sprouts. Cover and simmer 5 minutes longer.

Makes 6 servings. Serve over 4 cups hot cooked rice.

NOTE: ?-can (4 oz.) sliced mushrooms may be used in place of fresh. Drain and save liquid. Use all the mushroom liquid in place of water to mix cornstarch. 1 package (10 oz.) frozen chopped spinach may be used in place of fresh spinach. After meat balls are browned push to one side of the skillet; add the unthawed spinach, pour corn starch mixture over, and cook as directed, 20 to 25 minutes.

MRS. VINCENT STONE, left, and Mrs. Hugo Holstrom, center, members of the North County League of Women Voters, were conducted on a tour of the North San Mateo County Mental Health Center recently by the chairman of the center's volunteer auxiliary group, Mrs. Howard Stegman, right. Here Mrs. Stegman explains a model of the Golden Gate Bridge, one of numerous handicraft projects completed by patients at the center.

New Officers Installed By 4-H'ers of South S.F.

The South San Francisco 4-H Club had their third annual achievement night dinner recently at the South San Francisco Rod and Gun Club.

Mrs. Chloe Hultz, San Mateo County Home Advisor, was the guest speaker.

Officers for the new year were installed:

Indian Theme Surrounds Cub Pack 369 Meeting

Cub Pack 369 opened its monthly pack meeting in the Multi-Use Room at the Abraham Lincoln School recently on an Indian Theme.

The stage was set with totem poles, an artificial fire and the club works of art on the bulletin board. The lights were dimmed, and the cubs dressed in Indian shirts, head bands and ankle bands, were led off by Bob Slakman who lit the fire with his torch. Jerome Garden started the drum beats, followed by Doug Piccolotti, Steve Kramer, Jim Smith, David Litz and Mike Mattola.

David Litz and Jerome Garden received Webelo Badges.

The new Denner is to be David Litz, with Doug Piccolotti assistant denner.

Cub of the Month was a tie, the honors shared by Jerome Garden and Doug Piccolotti.

They are: Vicki Rosa, president; Laurie Janisch, secretary; Gail Firenze, treasnrer; Mike Solari, reporter; Diane Klinker, historian; Kathy and Patty Klinker, song leaders; Al Firenze and Fred West, sergants-at- arms.

The project leaders who have been with this club since they started three years ago received "outstanding leadership" plaques. They are Mrs. John Oberst, Mrs. Vic Rosa, Lowell Durham and John Solari.

Solari also received, unexpectedly, but happily from his livestock members, a "thanks trophy," adorned with a clock and beef and sheep which represents his project. It was presented by Pat Johnson.

Gold stars used on hats, were earned by Gail Firenze, Pat Johnson, and Greg Solari. Mike Solar won a silver star; Diane and Kathy Klinker, bronze stars.

RIGHT NUMBER

If a recipe calls for one cup of fine cornflake crumbs, you'll need to crush four cups of cornflakes to make the required number of crumbs.

HERE ARE SOME TIPS ON HOW TO MAKE YOUR MATTRESS LAST LONGER

We've all seen examples of homes where furnishings look shabby after one year, while in other homes, furniture with the same use looks like new after ten years.

Some of the difference is in CARE.

This is particularly true in the case of mattresses.

Mattresses should be turned every week, not only from top to bottom, but front to back in order to equally distribute body weight to all parts of the mattress.

If possible, mattresses should be aired regularly by removing them from the bed and placing them on edge against a wall or dresser, leaving your windows wide open at such times.

There are several good mattress spray fresheners on the market but these are recommended to use only in addition to, and not in place of, the fresh air treatment.

A big mistake many people make is to sit on the edge of a bed when dressing or undressing. Remmember that mattresses are for sleeping—and not sitting—and when they are used as a chair the edges are apt to break down.

And a good way to get the maximum value from your bedding is to purchase your mattresses and springs from our quality selection of nationally advertised brands.

THE CHARLES BATTIS (Audrey Davina)
(George Brooke Photo)

San Bruno Home For Newlyweds

Our Lady of Angels Catholic Church was the setting for the recent marriage of Audrey Mary Davina and John Charles Batti.

Audrey, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davina of Burlingame, wore an Empire gown of saki cloth with lace bodice and sleeves. A Dior bow caught her elbow-length veil, and she carried orchids, lilies of the valley and stephanotis.

Louise Vierra was Audrey's honor attendant in cerise chiffon. Mrs. Eugene Batti, the bridesmaid, wore a matching gown, and Marcy Batti was the flower girl in white eyelet.

Eugene Batti stood with his brother as best man. Both are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Batti of San Bruno. Frank Angelino, Denis Hensen and Dan Biagi seated the guests.

The couple received felicitations at the Lazy V Restaurant in San Bruno and then departed for a honeymoon in Carmel. They will live in San Bruno.

The new matron is a graduate of Mills High School, and her husband graduated from Capuchino High School.

Bazaar Planned By Areme Club

Gertrude Tracy hostessed today's meeting of the Areme Club at her San Bruno home. Members prepared for the bazaar which the club is sponsoring November 4.

The group also sponsored a fashion show and luncheon recently featuring fashions from the Patio store and Chapmans, both in San Bruno. The affair took place at the Brentwood Lodge.

CDA Fashion Show Planned For Thursday

"International Holiday Fashion" is the theme of the style show Catholic Daughters of America will present Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Elks Club in South San Francisco.

Evelyn Martin, chairman, will be assisted by Valda Barsanti, Rose Sassmann, Val Grassi, Gloria Raffaelli, Carmen Blair, Enes Quinlan, Esther Bernal, Jean Langhi, Dean Balesteri, Margaret Campbell, Josephine Manseau and Caroline Fregosi.

Modeling the fashions of Mr. G of San Mateo will be Mmes. John Colombo, Peter Andreini, Stag Torries, Sassmann, David Medeghini, James Ward, Leslie Brooks, William Leary, Roy Uccelli, Fred Benetti, John Fabbri and Margie Drake and Jeannue Barsi.

PATTERN FOR CLASS

Like mother, mini-maids will wear plenty of plaids, stripes, checks and paisleys back to schools.

A Big Night At Pacifica

Civic Leaders, Dignataries and Candidates

Pacificans seems generally to agree that Saturday night's Tenth Anniversary Ball was a "tremendous affair." Music and champagne seemed to flow well, as estimated 250 couples joined to kick off the coastal community's month-long celebration of its Tenth Anniversary of incorporation. Held on the red-carpeted mall of the Doeloger Company's Fairmont Shopping Center, the Ball, the event attracted not only Pacifica's leading citizens, but those prominent in other North County areas as well. And, candidates for public office were there, too — those in the running for a single Pacifica City Council seat (nine in all) and Congressional Candidates Paul McCloskey, Shirley Temple Black and William Draper. A number of other activities to observe the Pacifica anniversary are planned throughout this month, with Stan Vander Hule general chairman. Mort Levinson was the Anniversary Ball chairman.

$500 Fire After Lamp Falls on Bed

An unshaded bedside lamp that fell or was knocked onto a bed ignited bedsheets, starting a fire that caused an estimated $500 damage last Tuesday at La rida Avenue, Pacifica.

Pacifica firemen said the occupant, Donna Waldran, was in the kitchen when she smelled smoke at 11:47 a.m.

As the home began to fill with smoke she called firemen, who found the blaze just getting started up the walls when they entered the bedroom.

The fire was confined to the bedroom, in which the bed was destroyed. The floor and walls and miscellaneous contents suffered smoke, flame or water damage, a fire department spokesman said.

Editor to Talk About History In South S.F.

A local newspaper editor will discuss "Recollections of the Past" at the Thursday meeting of the South San Francisco Women's Club. A social hour at noon will precede the 1 p.m. business meeting at the clubhouse.

The editor will recall some of the history of the city's incorporation in 1894 and will trace the city's development in conjunction with the club's history. The group's Founder's Day celebration is set for October 19.

The club will host the Golden Gate Federation of Women's Clubs luncheon October 9 with Mrs. Finley Acker and Mrs. Roger Ericson as co-chairman. The board also has appointed two new officers: Mrs. Ralph Marcus, first vice president, and Mrs. Alastair Finlayson, second vice president.

Mrs. Walter Yasinitsky, president, has announced that volunteers are needed to help stuff Christmas Seal envelopes for the fight against emphysema and tuberculosis October 17 at the Fiesta Building in San Mateo. Any persons wishing to participate should contact Mrs. Yasinitsky for time and transportation.

Section meetings scheduled this month include: group therapy, October 12, to view "Thoroughly Modern Millie," contact Millie Sutherlin or Bernadine Hinmon for reservations; bridge, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. October 25 at clubhouse, and garden, October 26, at the home of Mrs. John Cotrozos, 109 Chapman, South San Francisco, 10 a.m., bring a box lunch for a tour of the city.

P-TG To Convene

Mothers' club officers and members from 20 Catholic schools in San Mateo County will attend the Twentieth Annual Archdiocesan Parent-Teacher Group convention Friday at Riordan High School, 175 Phelan Avenue, San Francisco.

Mrs. Richard Harnett of South San Francisco will head the delegation.

The day will begin with registration at 8:45 a.m. followed by mass in the chapel of the high school at 9:15.

A teenage panel will discuss "Family Life Education" at the convention themed, "Parent-Child Communication and the Learning of Love." Tom Tallon of San Bruno will participate on the panel. He is a senior at Serra High School in San Mateo.

Sister Cecelia Marie, principal, Our Lady of Angels, Burlingame, will show three movies: "Human and Animal Beginning," primary.

Men's Club Night Set

Mater Dolorosa Men's Club is sponsoring a Candidates' Night on October 9 at 8:30 p.m. in the Parish Hall, South San Francisco.

Invitations have been sent to all candidates of the Eleventh Congressional District to participate in this questions-and-answer type forum. The meeting will be open to the general public of San Mateo County. Further information can be obtained by contacting Ray Lathem, 495 Holly Avenue, South San Francisco.

Babysitting Club Slates Meeting In Daly City

The Westlake Babysitting Club this week announced plans to meet at the home of Mary Ann Rowe, 171 Longview Drive, Daly City, October 12, at 8 p.m.

Miss Kraus, children's librarian at Westlake Library, will speak on children's literature.

Guests and prospective club members living in Westlake or St. Francis Heights are welcome.

For further information, contact Mrs. Norman Miller, 756-6018, or Mrs. David Rowe, 992-1163.

Mrs. James Kelleher, not shown, is chairman of the event, which will feature the music of Eddie Harkness in the Continental Ballroom.

Family Life

San Bruno Couple Honored at Party

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Guiver of San Bruno were honored on their fortieth wedding anniversary with a surprise reception at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDonald of Burlingame.

The couple were married September 28, 1927, and moved to San Bruno in 1942 from Salt Lake City, Utah.

Attending the party were their other daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Black of San Mateo; Mrs. Guiver's sister, Mrs. Warren Carlton of San Bruno; another sister, Mrs. Walt Christensen of Salt Lake City, and McDonald's father, James McDonald of South San Francisco.

The couple has a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Les Guiver of Beaumont, Tex., who were unable to attend.

Bay Area Poets Will Attend Meet

A group poetry discussion moderated by two Daly City poets will be held at the Westmoor Park Clubhouse on Edgemont Avenue October 15 in observance of "National Poetry Day."

Moderators include Margaret O. Richardson and Barba Jean, two published opets from this area, and the discussions will be open to the public 1 to 4 p.m.

Purpose of the program will be to afford the public an opportunity to meet Bay Area poets and hear their ideas on poetry, sponsors said.

Coupon Drive Results In Bus for S.F. Deaf Center

A drive to collect 485,000 Betty Crocker coupons for a Volkswagen bus for St. Benedict's Center for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing in San Francisco culminated August 20 with the presentation of the bus to the center.

The San Bruno Unit No. 409 of the American Legion Auxiliary undertook this project in February as part of their community service program. Under the chairmanship of Clara Nettke, the auxiliary collected 27,000 coupons for the center. The North County Auxiliary of the Family Service Agency supported the legion auxiliary's efforts, and collected 2,500 of the coupons at their resale shop, the Family Fashion Fair.

THE LESTER GUIVERS
Married 40 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent DeRosa, Mrs. Nettke and Agnes Lawrence, community service chairman for this year, attended the reception at the center when the bus was unveiled. The center told them that the San Bruno auxiliary was the largest single contributor to the project. Mrs. Nettke and Mrs. Lawrence have extended their thanks to the community for its support.

The deaf center still needs coupons for insurance payments on the bus and for a movie screen and other needed items for the center. Any person wishing to contribute coupons through the auxiliary should contact Mrs. Lawrence, 644 Easton Avenue, San Bruno.

Boned and Rolled Chuck for Broiler

California Beef Council Photo

A boned and rolled California chuck roast is an excellent choice for rotisserie cooking. The slow, even temperature seals in the good meat juices, the fat is self basting, and roasting in the round insures a beautiful color. To vary the flavor, a tarragon, wine and butter baste goes on as it cooks. Or try the Oriental baste with soy sauce, sherry and oil. This beautiful but economical beef is real party fare.

Rotisserie Roast Beef Tarragon

1 (5-pound) boned and rolled chuck roast
Garlic (optional)
⅓ cup white wine
1 teaspoon tarragon
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon melted butter

Make sure roast is tied securely. If using garlic, cut small deep slits in meat and insert garlic slivers. Balance beef on spit; insert meat thermometer in center of beef. Roast according to manufacturer's directions in oven or rotisserie to desired degree of doneness, basting every 15 minutes with wine combined with tarragon, salt and butter. Cook to 130 degrees F. internal temperature for rare beef, 140 degrees F. for medium rare and 160 degrees F. for well done. Remove from heat. Let roast stand 20 minutes before carving.

Meat will continue cooking. Rare beef will register 140 degrees F. at serving time.

ORIENTAL BASTE: Combine ¼ cup soy sauce with ¼ cup sherry and 1 tablespoon cooking oil.

Try Orange-Juice Poached Apples

The freshly harvested apples are coming into our markets daily now in orchard-crisp condition.

First of the season varieties are the juicy, hand-size Jonathans, just right for lunchbox packing and all savory apple recipes — and the broad-shouldered Red Delicious variety, which is known for its sweet, firm-celled flesh, so perfect for snacking and all fresh uses.

Keep these figure-saving apples on hand; they're the perfect mid-morning snack.

We've combined flavorful, tangy Washington Jonathans with orange juice today for two interesting recipes.

Our Orange-Juice Poached Apples, using the Jonathans, is a most versatile, spicily flavored dish. It may be used as a dessert, salad, or meat condiment.

The Fresh Apple-Orange Bread may be made in three standard-size loaves or six small loaves. It's a tasty addition to the morning coffee break, luncheon salad, or afternoon tea.

And, thanks to the freshly grated Jonathans, this bread stays moist and delicious. We learned, too, that it's a man-and-boy favorite.

ORANGE-JUICE POACHED APPLES

3 large apples
2-3 cup orange juice
1-3 cup sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon, nutmeg, or curry powder

Peel, core and quarter apples. Combine orange juice and sugar in a medium saucepan. Simmer, stirring occasionally, until sugar is dissolved. Stir in desired spice. Add apples and simmer until tender. Remove from heat. Serve as an accompaniment to roast chicken or duck, as a salad, or top with whipped cream and serve as a dessert. Serves 4 to 6.

FRESH APPLE-ORANGE BREAD

2 cups sugar
2-3 cup shortening
3 whole eggs
2-3 cup orange juice
2½ cups ground or grated Washington apple, including peel
1½ cups ground raisins
¼ cup orange peel, ground very fine
½ cup finely chopped nuts
4 cups sifted flour
2 tsps. baking powder
2 tsps. soda
1½ tsps. salt
½ tsp. nutmeg

Cream together sugar and shortening; add eggs and whip until light and fluffy. Mix together orange juice, apple, raisins, nuts and orange peel. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and nutmeg. Add fruit mixture and dry mixture alternately to creamed mixture. Pour into a well-greased and floured baking pan and bake at 350 degrees F. for 45 minutes; reduce heat to 325 degrees F. and continue to bake 45 minutes longer, or until straw pressed into center comes out clean. Makes 3 standard bread-pan loaves or 6 small loaves, 6x3½x2 inches.

Cookies For The Small Fry

AFTERNOON REFRESHER

A delicious cookie both grown-ups and small fry will enjoy.

New Chocolate Meltaways Beverage

¾ cup (1½ sticks) butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 large egg
2 tablespoons milk
2 envelopes no-melt chocolate
2 cups sifted regular flour
⅛ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup finely chopped walnuts
5 teaspoons sweet cocoa beverage mix

In a large mixing bowl cream the butter, sugar and vanilla. In small mixing bowl with clean beater, beat egg until thick and ivory-colored; beat into creamed mixture with milk and chocolate. Gradually stir in flour and salt; smooth top, cover tightly and refrigerate or freezer-store until firm. Mark into 4 portions; shape 18 balls out of each portion. (If necessary, refrigerate portions not being shaped to keep firm.) Roll balls in nuts mixed with cocoa mix. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet, an inch apart, in a moderate oven (375 degrees) about 10 minutes. Makes 6 dozen.

Ham Flavor Puts Zest In a Menu

When half or whole ham is a bit too large a cut to purchase for the small family, what's the answer?

Pork smoked shoulder rolls, formerly called, "butt," may be one solution to the family that likes a flavor like ham to put zest in the menu. These weigh from two to three pounds, declares a meat authority, and may be roasted or simmered in water, as in this recipe, before baking to set the glaze.

Smoked Pork Shoulder Roll, Apricot Glaze

2 to 3 pound pork shoulder roll (butt)
Water
1 small onion, sliced
3 whole cloves
5 whole black peppers
2 cinnamon sticks
½ cup apricot preserves
½ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon grated orange rind

Cover meat with water. Add onion, cloves, black peppers and cinnamon sticks. Cover tightly and simmer 1½ hours. Remove meat and place on a rack in open roasting pan. Combine apricot preserves, dry mustard and orange rind. Spread over top of meat. Bake in a slow over (325 degree F.) 20 minutes. Serve hot or chilled. 6 servings.

LET'S KNIT

With Illustrated Patterns By Ursula duBois

Dress and Pants

This unusual dress and pants ensemble is modeled by lovely Susan Barrett, singer and television actress.

The pants legs, the hem border of the dress, and the sleeves feature a lace design for added attractiveness. This outfit can be equally stunning at home, dating, or for dinner. Perhaps you would like to wear the dress alone and the pants with a shell. This design can double as another outfit.

Illustrated instructions come in sizes 10 through 20. All sizes are includes on one pattern.

To obtain pattern No. 142, send $1.00 in currency, check or money order to: Ursula duBois, San Mateo Times, Box 3307, Van Nuys, California 91407. Send 15 cents extra for first class mail and special handling. PLEASE PRINT PLAINLY YOUR NAME, ADDRESS, PATTERN NUMBER, AND ZIP CODE NUMBER.

Other items you may enjoy: No. 72 Bangle Sweater 75 cents, Sizes 10-20; No. 32 ¾ Length Coat $1.00, Sizes 10-20; No. 35 Sheath Dress $1.00, Sizes 8-16; No. K Knit Pickin' Knit Book $1.50; No. 10 Know-How Knitting Booklet 50 cents.

After-School Snacks

They burst into the house, the hungry horde, and head straight for the refrigerator, or they yell at Mom:

"We're starved!"

"What's for snacks?"

"Can Johnny and I have a sandwich?"

What's a mother to do?

Do they really need snacks?

Is eating between meals good for them?

What can I give them besides sweets?

Will it spoil their appetite for supper?

Relax, Mom. It can't be as bad as all that. There are answers to your questions that will set your mind at rest and please the kids too.

The after-school snack need not be a problem, because many, if not most, children do need the afternoon snack. Active children use up a lot of energy. Their small stomachs are not able to handle large quantities of food at one time. Between-meal snacks, if well chosen, provide the carry-over energy which may help to bring them to the evening meal less fatigued, and not too hungry to eat. The old idea that all eating-between-meals is necessarily poor practice has been greatly modified.

The after-school snack will not necessarily spoil the appetite for the evening meal. The child should not have food during the last 90 minutes to two hours before the evening meal. If he gets his snack right after school, he is less likely to indulge in food or soft drinks just before mealtime.

The after-school snack can and should be more than a sweet and a soft drink. In their place, these are harmless; in excess, they can crowd out more essential nutrients. The canny — I almost said sneaky — mother will tempt her children to eat what they should by having good and attractive snack materials handier than any other kind. She may even go so far as to have something like sandwiches ready; or ice cream or chocolate milk or a milk shake. In the sandwiches, thin slices of meat or cheese, peanut butter and jelly or peanut butter and cream cheese are popular with many children. Dry-roasted nuts are good, too. As far as possible, children's known preferences should be respected; this saves a lot of nagging.

Shall Johnny Nextdoor come along with your Jimmy? Why not. Snacks in company are more fun than eating alone, and tomorrow they may both be snacking over at Johnny's. This helps mother, too, in knowing where the kids are and what they are up to.

Annual Westside Baptist Picnic

Saturday at 10:30 a.m. at San Bruno Park, area three, the Annual Sunday School picnic of the Westside Baptist Church will be held.

Superintendent Alton Swedberg is in charge of the affairs of the day, with Jim McLean and Ed Brunzell in charge of the sports. Recreation, fun, fellowship and lots of food is offered to all who attend.

Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship hour, Pastor A. David Donnelly's sermon topic will be, "A Changeless Message," third in a series of messages from Paul's first letter to Timothy.

Special music will be provided at this service. Mrs. Ed Brunzell is the pianist. During the service, a nursery is maintained for babies and toddlers.

During the last half of the adult worship hour, student workers, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Anderson, will conduct a primary church hour for boys and girls, ages four through seven.

Sunday Church School at Westside Baptist Church begins each Sunday morning at 9:45 a.m. There are 11 age-graded classes, nursery through College, with two fine adult classes. The Sunday School program of Westside Baptist Church is planned to include the entire family. During the class period, Pastor Donnelly is conducting a church membership orientation class for prospective members, or for those who wish to learn more about what the local church teaches.

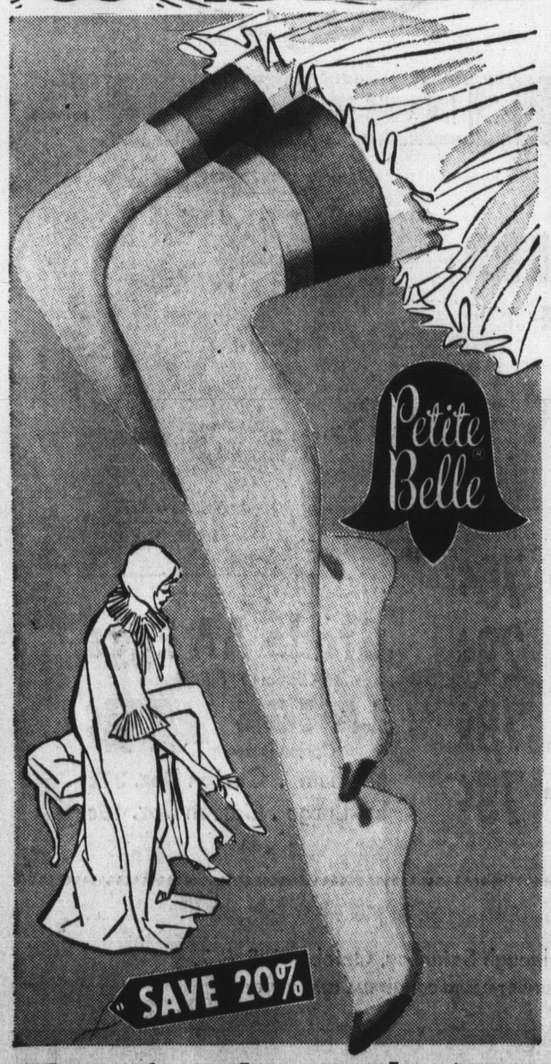

Sunday at 6:30 p.m., the quarterly business session of the church will be held. At this meeting, various committees will bring reports. The Deacon Board will bring several recommendations. Following this meeting, the evening will close with a brief time of congregational singing, and Pastor Donnelly will bring another message concerning basic beliefs — the topic, "Sanctification."

October 10, at 9:30 a.m., at the St. Andrews Episcopal Church, 1600 S. Santa Lucia, San Bruno, the Women's Bible Class will be held. Mrs. Barbara DeLung is the teacher. She is leading in a study of the book of Philippines. Women in the community are invited to attend. There is nursery care for babies and small children during the study hour.

A New Year For Jewish Families

Hundreds of Jewish families who reside in the Daly City area will meet tonight at Congregation B'nai Israel, located at 1575 Annie Street in Colma, to usher in the Jewish New Year. (Rosh Hashanah)

The evening service tonight, Thursday and Friday will see large numbers of worshippers fill the Synagogue for the many hours of official worship.

This year marks the 59th anniversary since B'nai Israel was organized in 1908, and the third anniversary in our new Temple in Colma. The Congregation has grown in numbers since it's relocation from Los Banos Avenue in Daly City.

The Congregation now has a membership of over oue hundred members, with a Sunday school enrollment of almost 150 students. A two day a week Hebrew school, a two year course in the Confirmation class and many other social groups such as a Men's Club, Sisterhood, a bowling team known as the B'nai Israelites, and two youth organizations for boys and girls comprising ages 10 to 17.

This year the services will be conducted by Rabbi Solomon A. Shore, spiritual leader of the Congregation since 1957. Cantor Jeno Friedman, formerly Cantor at Geneva, Switzerland, Rev. Kiva Katznelson-Bal Tefila, and Mr. Wolfe Schlesigner, President of the Congregation and Mr. Stanley Fisher-Religious Chairman, assisting.

The Shofar (ram's horn) will be blown this year by Mark Benson and Irv Shore.

NO SEAT BELT? LESS COMPENSATION

BRUNSWICK, Germany (UPI) — Drivers who fail to wear seat belts can claim less damages in event of an auto crash, according to a recent West German court ruling.

Volunteers At Church Number 50

Fifty men and women volunteer their time Sunday mornings teaching the youth of Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church.

Workers for the Sunday School meet each Sunday morning to conduct classes for children from ages three years through high school years, including a class for parents and adults.

Dennis Kaiser is the superintendent for the school.

Volunteers are Mmes. James Elkin, Michael McAvoy, Robert Burton, Allen Pilgrim, Robert Bleile, Melvin Chirolo, Jerry Steffes, Irvin Achziger, Anthony Jiao, James Jones, Edward Seekamp, Charles Hansen, Walter Johnson, Ray Wagenknecht, Herbert Werner, Gus Felix, Robert Hall, William Harter, Elmer Laursen, Marvin Cave, Lyle Gibson, Alvin Lutz and Arfst Arfsten.

Other volunteers for teaching are Robert Bleile, Walter Johnson, David Mullen, Robert Hall, Rev. Elmer La ursen, George Coley, Larry Kruczynski, Ed Gulbrandson, George Petersen, Marvin Cave, Mrs. Frances Rosenmiller, Mrs. Dorothy Hedlund, Frances Cave, Anna DeMaio, Marilyn Bollinger, Bonnie Anderson, Bobbie Roofener, Corrine Isakson, Carole Harter, Lorraine Day and Arlo Gulbrandson.

Graded classes number 22. Enrollments for classes are kept small, allowing the teacher opportunity to do personal work with students, according to pastor Irvin Tweet.

Change in Presbyterian Sunday School Schedule

Pastor Herbert C. Tweedie of the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377-87th Street, Colma, has announced new Sunday School times.

Reverend Tweedie said pupils now are registering for double sessions — at 9:15 a.m. and 11 a.m.

Class sessions are to be conducted for all ages through adults at 9:15 a.m., with the 11 o'clock classes excluding high school-agers and adults.

A half-hour family worship service will be held during the 9:15 a.m. section.

San Mateo Hi Routs Hapless Jefferson Indians, 45-0 Score

By GARRY NIVER
Post Sports Writer

Ponce de Leon was purported to have found the secret of youth in a mysterious fountain and San Mateo High School football coach Buzz Williams thinks he has solved the equally elusive secret of winning football games in the form of an explosive offense.

While the Fountain of Youth has never again been found, there was certainly no mystery, nor argument, in the Bearcats' 45-0 rout of Jefferson High on the winner's field Friday.

"I think that we could have beaten most anybody today," exclaimed the happy Williams after the victory. "Our kids just exploded out there. Our offense finally jelled and though we made a few mistakes, I think that it is in a lot better shape now than it was last week," Williams added. The Bearcats lost a 7-6 decision to North Salinas last week.

While the bespectacled coach lauded the offense, he also gave the defense a heap of credit. "Joe Johnson, Ron Saito and Mike Stewart were exceptionally aggressive on defense," Williams stated.

As far as the game went, there is not much which can be said. Fleet Lennie Haysbert enacted an omen of things to come when he took the opening kickoff and raced 84 yards for a touchdown. It was called back on a clipping penalty, but the Bearcats' spirit was undaunted.

Moments later halfback Alonzo Emery sped around left end en route to a 40-yard touchdown romp. Four plays later Haysbert reveived retribution for his earlier run when he gobbled up a punt and raced 76 yards for the score.

The Bearcats made it 18-0 at the half when Emery added a 28-yard td jaunt midway through the second quarter.

Apparently tired of piling up the easy yardage on the ground, San Mateo quarterback Wayne Willis took to the air and set up two more scores in the third period. Fullback Jerry Simon contributed a six-yard scoring scamper after Willis had set up the score with passes to end Jeff Vucinich.

An interception by SM's Joe Johnson gave the hosts the ball on the Jefferson eight-yard line and two plays later Emery carried it over from yards out for his third touchdown of the afternoon.

Haysbert made it 39-0 with a three-yard run and reserve quarterback Steve Noce put the capper on the scoring parade by hustling 24 yards around right end for a td late in the final period.

The Bearcats totaled up 452 yards on offense, compared to Jeff's 98, with Simon getting 110 and Emery 132 on the ground, respectively.

Colts Lose A Heartbreaker

By CRAIG BECKHEYER
Post Sports Writer

El Camino's hapless Colts, winless now in three practice games, broke a string of eight consecutive scoreless quarters Friday night against Aragon and then discovered a brand new way to lose the ball game.

With the score tied 6-6 in the final quarter, Colt quarterback Frank Lucia fumbled in his own end zone after an heroic goal line stand by the El Camino defense and Aragon's Phil Vangene fell on the ball for the Dons go-ahead touchdown in a 13-6 victory for the San Mateo school.

The contest, played before a sparse crowd in the nippy fog of South San Francisco's Clifford Field, marked Aragon's first win in two outings and kept El Camino's reverse skein intact at 0-3.

It was ironic indeed that the Don's deciding TD came as it did. Seconds before the Colt defensive line had dug in and held like the Green Bay Packers in denying Aragon a touchdown in four tries from the six yard line.

The winners drew first blood in the contest when they took the opening kickoff 65 yards in 15 plays with Bob Burmeister garnering six points from the two. Dave Ankele's kick was wide left and it was 6-0 Dons with 3:29 left in the quarter.

Early in the second half El Camino began a drive that was to snap a scoreless string that stretched back over eight periods (to the second quarter of their opening game). With Frank Ingersoll contributing 30 yards in four carries and a 15 yard penalty boosting them along, the Colts tied it at 6-6 on a two yard Lucia to Jeff Jensen pass play. Mike Tenerowicz PAT attempt was low and into the charging Aragon defenders.

Coming after last weeks 41-0 shellacking at the hands of Serra, the win had to be a morale booster for the Dons. Aragon was able to move the ball and control the game on the ground and went to the air only four times all night.

El Camino pulled out all the stops in trying to get on the winning side of the ledger. The Colts successfully pulled off and on-sides kick following their thrid period touchdown but couldn't get a drive under-way.

El Camino squandered their final chance to catch the winners in the final two minutes when a foolish roughing the kicker penalty gave Aragon a first down on the loser's 30 after they had run out of gas on the Colt 45 and were forced to punt.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Lamp Post Steak House Luncheon and Dinner

THE HIGHLY DECORATIVE Lamp Post Steak House, located at 2750 El Camino Real, is San Mateo's newest addition to the restaurant field. Featuring "An inexpensive meal in an elegant setting," the Lamp Post offers a New York Steak, including baked potato and salad with choice of Bleu Cheese, Thousand Island or French dressing, all for only $1.39. For hamurger lovers, host-owners Rene Goudy, Ray Bartels and Lyle Blaine also serve a delicious quarter-pound burger on a French roll with French fries for 89 cents. A real touch of elegance has been added to this new, fast-service restaurant, via chandeliers, red flocked wallpaper, handsomely-framed mirrors and paintings, and wall to wall carpeting. Padded captains chairs add to your comfort as you watch your steak or burger being cooked to perfection on a rotating circular charcoal broiler (only one of its kind in the Bay Area). Open seven days a week from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m., stop in the Lamp Post for lunch or dinner and be overwhelmed with its fast service, excellent food, courteous employees and high standards of cleanliness.

BRIGHT LIGHTS LOVES EVERYBODY: The nod of the week goes to two "sweet people," Bea and Bob Schadel, who own and operate the Baywood Pantry, 165 East Fourth Avenue, San Mateo. These expert bakers of fine pastries, bread, pies and decorated cakes also keep the oven fires burning at Betty's Cake Shop in San Bruno. Decorated Whipped Cream Cake is just one of the many house specialties (and also one of mine—sh-h-h). The sweet rolls and coffee cakes for morning and afternoon snacking are the yummiest! Mae, Edna and Barney, members of Joseph Cohen's Bay Meadows greeting staff, and Yours Truly highly recommend the Baywood Pantry products.

IN ONLY SEVEN MONTHS, Chuck Winstead has guided Yolanda's Terminal Cafe and Lounge through the portals of success. "The best possible food at reasonable prices," is the way Chuck explained his thoughts on running a restaurant. "Of course," he added, "ALWAYS have someone of owner Yolanda Dean's calibre supervising the kitchen." Whatever the magic ingredients, a "head count" of Yolanda's patrons will attest to the fact that Chuck and Yolanda are doing correctly . . . Zonta International's first World Bazaar will be presented, tomorrow, at the San Mateo County Fairgrounds. Louie Gundunas of the Balkan Village will entertain with his dances in the Greek portion of the bazaar . . . The 50 cent "Happy Hours" at the Blue Peacock are again subject for much talk around the Millbrae area. As a favor to patrons, bar manager Lou Dapello has kept the 50 cent relaxers in effect since the Bowling Carnival.

Chuck Winstead

BETTYE SWANN, attractive blues singer who hails from Atlanta, Georgia, is featured in the 36th Anniversary Show at Bimbo's 365 Theater Restaurant. Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy star in the show through October 4. Al Martino and comic Flip Wilson open October 5 . . . 46 different meetings were held by various groups in the large banquet facilities of the South San Francisco Holiday Inn, last week. As usual, Food and Beverage Manager Claude Schroeder and his crew worked overtime to see that all ran smoothly. It appears no end is in sight for "Inn keepers" Jerry and Fred Rapp and their hard working staff, as bookings are constantly being added to the reservation agenda . . . Salad fanciers will go wild over the wide selection at Frank Torres' Beach Hotel, in Montara. One of the most delicate is Escabeche (cooked pickled fish), Peruvian style.

Bettye Swann

YOU CAN BET that Sil Oliva of the Exposition Fish Grotto, Fisherman's Wharf, has been listening with avid interest to the Monday night computer boxing matches on KNBR. Sil has always maintained that today's champions couldn't lace the gloves of yesterday's — and the all-time World Championship Tournament should just go to prove it . . . Although still youthful, Pierre's owner-chef, Dewey Wong, is a seasoned veteran in the food business. Dewey, who once managed such restaurants as The Gold Coin and The Golden Pavillion, both in Los Angeles' Chinatown, cooks with such a flair for taste that most of his luncheon regulars return often for dinner with their families . . . The Chicken Saute with Risotto Milanese, one of the many gourmet dishes at Doros in SF's financial district, is a recipe of owner Don Dianda.

Sil Oliva

TO PAY TRIBUTE and offer thanks to the many loyal patrons who have helped make the Fork 'n' Cork so successful, owners Vic and Julie Proul will offer a FREE Cannelloni feed to their patrons, starting this Sunday. Scheduled to become an every-Sunday occurence, the Proul's will close their restaurant operation on Sundays and concentrate on providing the "free Cannelloni" from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. Of course, the "Cork" room activities will remain. Organist Woody Woodington will provide the music, and 'tis rumored a dance floor will soon be added. Acting as official host, Vic will be on hand each Sunday to make certain everyone has their share of the Cannelloni. Don't forget: the Fork 'n' Cork's First Annual Anniversary Party is slated for October 14. Invitations will soon be in the mail.

Vic Proul

Villa Chartier Manager, Jack Bryce, "Available"

On your next visit to Emerson Murfee's Villa Chartier or Lanai, make yourself known to Jack Bryce, genial manager of these two famed Peninsula restaurants. Bryce will be delighted to explain the advantages of the many banquet rooms that are suitable for any large or small function, a wedding reception, showers, or business meetings. It's also quite an experience to take a tour through these well-appointed restaurants — including their spotless, stainless steel kitchens. Mr. Bryce is at your service for any occasion.

Carlo Fasolo Is Official Table Host

As for being personable, Carlo Fasolo, "Wagon master" of the Black Angus Chuck Wagon, rates high on any poll. A truly extroverted individual, Carlo acts as official host at the Black Angus. One of the delights of visiting his "All you can eat" "Chuck Wagon" includes his visiting your table when dessert is served. Carlo's tales of his past experiences are remarkable, as is the cheese cake, which you positively must try.

New Time Table For The Cookery

As of right now, The Cookery, located in the new Mills Square Building, will be open Sunday through Thursday from 6:30 a.m. to 12 midnight; Friday and Saturdays, 6:30 to 3 a.m., reports "Robbie" Robertson, manager of this new idea in food business.

"After giving the restaurant a 'dry run' for two weeks," said Robbie, "we found that these hours are best suited for our customers."

Business has been exceptional in all fields, and each day finds new touches being added to the menu to make dining here more pleasurable. A grand opening celebration is in the offing.

HONOLULU BOUND — Phil Maita (left) and Pilot Joe Omalo have good reason to smile as they board the new luxurious seven passenger Jet Sabur Liner, which was recently purchased by Phil and his Fireside Lounge partner, Jack McRae, who is already aboard. The popular bistro owners say they intend flying in their entertainers from now on.

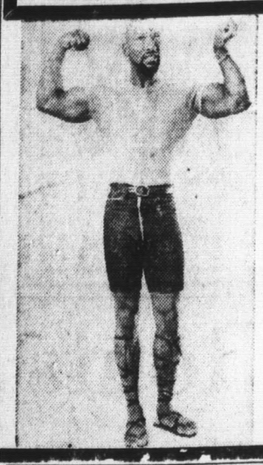

Villa Hotel "Just For Steaks" Then Dancing

"Impressive" best describes the Upper Level of the Villa Hotel, where few restaurants in the Bay Area can match the splendid "Just For Steaks" dining. The upper Level is an ideal spot for important client outings, or a pleasant evening with your best gal. As an added treat, stop over to the plush Villa Lounge and enjoy the soft dance music of the George Cerrutti Trio.

BILLIE DeVOE'S WOWS 'EM

Ringsiding at Finocchio's with a party of five, John Smith, star of TV's "Laramie," was more than amused at Billie De Voe's version of "Alexis from Texas." Billie, who takes over as emcee on one of Carroll Wallace's nights off, wows patrons at this house of female impersonation with his sophisticated interpretation of "Life is a Cabaret."

CALIFORNIA STANFORD NOV. 18
For the Week's Best Entry

Send in your entry in the
FOOTBALL CONTEST
Sponsored by the Post-Times
Entries available every Tuesday and Wednesday in The Times; every Wednesday in The Post

RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. Select the winner of each game by placing an "X" in the box on the margin side of the team you think will win. If you predict the game will end in a tie, place an "X" only in the column headed "Ties" between the two teams. If the game ends in a tie, credit will only be given to contestants who predict the tie.
2. Write the total net yards (rushing and passing) that you think the S.F. 49ers will make in Sunday's game in the box provided. (This estimate will only be used in case of ties between two contestants.)
3. Clip and mail the entry blank to:
FOOTBALL CONTEST
The Post
30 Park Plaza Dr.,
Daly City, Calif. 94015
4. Entries must be postmarked prior to midnight Thursday of this week or delivered to The Times prior to midnight Thursday of this week. The Times is not responsible for entries lost, delayed or destroyed or which fail to reach The Times by 9:30 A.M. on Saturday.
5. To receive the cash prize the winner must pick all 15 games correctly. If the entry does not pick all games right, then the winner will receive 2 tickets to the Big Game, California vs. Stanford on November 18. The previous week's contest cash prize will be added to the next week's contest if it is not distributed to a winner. This cash prize will be given to the winner of the final week's contest if it has not been distributed before. The final week's winner will not need to guess all 15 games to win the cash prize. In case ties cannot be broken between contestants by means of the tie-breaker the prize will be divided equally. (This includes ties between contestants who pick 15 winners.)
6. A bonus of $50 will be given to each cash prize winner (not Big Game ticket winners) who is a home-delivered subscriber to The San Mateo Times or indicates immediate delivery of The Times is wanted. To qualify for this bonus, either of the boxes at the bottom of the entry blank must be checked. In the event two or more subscribers divide the contest cash prize, the bonus prize will be divided in the same manner.
7. Number of entries from one household is limited to fifteen (15) on official entry blanks but only one (1) exact sized facsmille of the official entry blank may be submitted. Submission of more than one facsimile in any one week will render all facsimilies submitted by that contestant void.
8. Entries may be attached to a postcard, mailed in an envelope or delivered by hand to the San Mateo or the Daly City offices of The Times.
9. Anyone may enter the contest except employes of The Times or immediate members of their family.
10. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decisions. All entries become the property of The Times, no answers may be returned. The Times reserves the right to correct any typographical errors in the entry blank which affect the outcome of the contest. Answers to the contest or winners' names will NOT be given out over the phone. Winners will be notified by The Times.

How Bachelor Can Cook His Way Into A Woman's Heart

By JOHN PLATERO

Next time your current flame invites you over for dinner, offer to make the salad. You can put on quite a show, even if you feel you're all thumbs when it comes to cooking. Treat her to a Latin-type tossed salad.

Buy a head of lettuce, a bunch of celery, two tomatoes, two carrots (skinny ones), a small bottle of olive oil, a bottle of wine vinegar (nothing else will do), a few green onions (some people call them scallions) and a small jar of garlic powder. The girl friend won't mind supplying the salt and pepper.

Ask her whether she has a salad bowl. If she doesn't use this opportunity to get one. It's an attractive and useful gift and should guarantee you another invitation. She may not be wild about you, but she'll adore your salad.

Ready? Here we go.

Take off any blemished outer leaves from the head of lettuce and throw them away. Now, leaf by leaf, put more than enough lettuce in the bowl for two healthy portions. You can tear, pull, or cut the lettuce — but make the pieces large enough to spear with a fork. (The go-ot-the-dickens tearing method is the most impressive.)

Cut the tomatoes into fourths, then cut each piece in half; toss the tomatoes into the salad bowl as you make the final cuts. Peel the two skinny carrots with a vegetable peeler, keeping your 10 thumbs out of the way. Cut the carrots into half-nich pieces and toss into the bowl.

Pull off the two ribs of celery and cut off the green foliage at the top. Wash the ribs in cold water and dry them. Take a knife and slice each rib in half lengthwise. Cut each of the lengths into pieces about three-quarters of an inch wide. Add these to the salad.

Cut four or five of the green onions so you have the white bulb ends with about two inches of green part attached. Be a sport and toss the rest of the green party away. Most green onions have an outside skin on the white bulb that you can peel off with your fingers. Slice off the end of the bulb and throw that away, too. Now cut the onions you've prepared into pieces about one-quarter of an inch in length, and add to the salad bowl.

You're now ready to toss the salad. Ask for a fork and a tablespoon. Fork in the right hand, spoon in the left. Pour some olive oil over the vegetables in the bowl and mix. Do this until the entire salad is moist. Sprinkle salt on top and mix again — this way the salt adheres to the oil instead of winding up in the bottom of the bowl. Take out a small piece of lettuce and taste. If there isn't enough salt to suit your taste, repeat the process. Sprinkle a little pepper and garlic powder on the salad and mix once more. Repeat the tasting process to check the flavor.

Put one of your thumbs over the open end of the bottle of wine vinegar and spritz a little over the salad. Mix and taste again. Be careful with the vinegar because it has a strong flavor and can dominate a salad. You can always add more. When the dressing is right, the salad's ready for the two of you.

Give her diamonds, buy her furs, but to really impress that special female — cook for her!

It doesn't have to be a seven-course meal or something that entails much money, time or equipment. But it MUST be something your girl friend would never think of cooking — something a bit exotic. It can be a cup of soup, a salad or a simple main dish.

So for the second time around, let's make something simple but different: Garlic soup.

If you've ever bitten into a raw piece of garlic and said, "Ugh," — you were right. But though garlic is pungent, if used properly it can be surprisingly pleasant and can enhance many a dish.

To get ready, pick up two cans of clear chicken broth, a head of garlic, a small can or bottle of pure olive oil (no substitution here), a small package of macaroni (shells or elbows) and a can of garbanzos (sometimes called chick-peas).

If your girl friend is in the kitchen, chase her out. Start an argument so she'll go sulk in another room. Before the evening is over, she'll be purring anyway.

Now get everything ready. Open the broth and the garbanzos and uncap the olive oil. Take off about four or five cloves of garlic and peel them with a small paring knife.

Find a pot — something smaller than a pail yet large enough to hold the quantity of the three cans you've opened. Don't bother hunting for a cover to fit — you won't need one.

Slice the garlic thin or chop it into small pieces. Now you're ready to cook.

Pour enough olive oil into the pot to amply cover the bottom. Turn the heat to medium; if you don't have an indicator on your stove that means halfway between off and high. When the oil is hot, drop the garlic in and please stand there and watch it. It should be browned, not burned. If the girl friend happens to be peeking, take the pot and swirl it once or twice during the browning process. It looks professional and its turn the garlic.

When the garlic is brown, pour in both cans of broth. Turn the heat up a bit and bring the broth to a boil; now drop in six ounces of the macaroni and stir a couple of times after it goes in. When the macaroni is done (reading the cooking instructions on the package for the time it should take — about 10 minutes — and check by tasting); pour in the garbanzos — liquid and all. When the soup comes to a boil again, turn off the heat.

That's it. Now you're ready to dish out your masterpiece.

Information to demonstrate your culinary knowledge: Garlic is an European bulbous herb and a member of the lily family.

Pork Chops Atop Bread, FruitDressing

Double-A Pork Chops have both apples and apricots in the dressing that goes with them. But you'll probably be awarded a double "A" for appproval and appreciation in preparing them.

Fruited bread dressing can be mixed while the chops brown in the frying-pan as the first step in preparation.

Loin chops are the largest chops, points out a meat authority, since they have meat on both sides of the t-shaped bone. Rib chops may also be used in this recipe, but two, rather than one, should be planned for a serving.

Double-A Pork Chops

- 6 pork loin chops, cut ¾ to 1 inch thick
- 1 can (17 ounces) apricot halves
- 3 tablespoons lard or drippings
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ½ cup chopped celery
- ¼ cup finely chopped onion
- 1 cup chopped unpared apple
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
- 6 cups toasted soft bread crumbs

Drain apricots, save sirup. Brown chops in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season chops with salt and peper. Add ½ cup apricot sirup. Cover, simmer 15 minutes, turning chops once during the cooking period. Dice apricots. Combine celery, onion, apple, apricots, salt, poultry seasoning, bread crumbs and ¼ cup apricot sirup. Place ½ of the dressing in a 3-quart baking dish or a 15½x10¾-inch roasting pan. Arrange pork chops on top of dressing. Spoon remaining dressing between the chops. Pour juices in the frying-pan in a moderate over (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes. Uncover and bake 15 minutes or until chops are done. 6 servings.

Citizens Asked to SSF Candidates' Night Oct. 11

Registered voters, regardless of party affiliation, are being invited to attend a candidates' night at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, October 11, at El Camino High School little theater. Sponsor is the North San Mateo County Republican Assembly.

The little theater is located at 1320 Mission Road, at Evergreen in South San Francisco.

Shirley Temple Black, Robert Barry, William Draper, Paul McCloskey and the Rev. Gregory K. Sims are expected to be present.

The Assembly has announced that due to a prior committment, Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore, also a Republican candidate, will have a representative read his statement.

Monaco To Tell Wives About Trip

Dan Monaco, Democratic candidate for Congress, will report to San Mateo housewives on his Vietnam trip at a coffee "klatch" 10:30 a.m. Thursday, October 19 at the home of Mrs. Wesley Glasson, 513 Seville, San Mateo.

Monaco went to Vietnam at his own expense on September 27 on a fact-finding mission.

Shirley Releases Text of Younger Club Telegrams

Shirley Temple Black, candidate for Congress in the Eleventh Congressional District, has released the full text of two telegrams sent her September 30, confirming the interest that the late Congressman J. Arthur Younger had in her candidacy.

One goes further than suggesting she run, and reports that Younger "did express the desire that" Shirley succeed him.

The telegrams:

"As a member of the Art Younger Congressional Breakfast Club for the past six years, I was disturbed at the controversy which has developed with regard to your candidacy for Congress. Remembering that Art Younger had several times told members of the Breakfast Club that in the event he decided to retire, he hoped you would run for the seat, I recently polled the members of the club at one of our meetings and they unanimously agreed that Younger did in fact express his desire that you would succeed him."

(Signed) Cong. Vernon Thomson of Wisc.

"The Art Younger Congressional Breakfast Club has been established for fourteen years. Current members include Rep. Nelson of Minn., Rep. Devine of Ohio, Rep. Kyl of Iowa, Rep. King of New York, Rep. Utt of California, Rep. Thompson of Wisc., Rep. Gross of Iowa, Rep. Berry of South Dakota, Rep. Reifel of South Dakota, Rep. Clausen of California and Rep. Clawson of California.

"I joined six years ago. At the time when Art Younger was considering the possibility of retiring, on several occasions he said to me and to the group that if it were necessary for him to retire, he hoped you would run for his Congressional seat."

(Signed) Carleton King, Member of Congress, 30th Dist., New York.

Archibald Flies East For Briefing

As other candidates in the San Mateo County race for Congress turned West for trips to Vietnam, Democrat Roy Archibald flew East Monday to confer with members of the California Congressional delegation on matters affecting the 11th Congressional District.

Archibald is to be briefed on current developments in Congress by Democratic members of the Bay Area congressional delegation. The briefing session will be chaired by Rep. George Miller (Dem.-Alameda County).

"One of the important topics will be the congressional reaction to the war in Vietnam," Archibald said. "I believe I can best serve the interests of the 11th Congressional District at this time by conferring directly and in depth with the congressional leaders from the Bay Area."

Archibald said he is interested "not only in the immediate problems of Vietnam, but in the economic, diplomatic and military picture as it pertains to all of Southeast Asia."

Additionally, Archibald will meet with representatives of the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development Robert Weaver, regarding a proposed $300,000 federal grant for the East San Mateo Park construction program.

The city of San Mateo, where Archibald has been a city council member ten years, is planning to build a new park recreation facility, including gymnasium, meeting rooms and outdoor swimming pool. Under the announced purpose of a recent municipal bond issue, the city would contribute $150,000. The city's request for federal support moneys has been forwarded to the regional housing and urban development office in San Francisco.

Archibald's flight East was in the exact opposite direction of the aerial pathways taken by a number of his opponents for the congressional seat, vacant since the death of Republican J. Arthur Younger.

To date, Republicans William Draper III, Earl Whitmore and Robert (Bo) Barry have scheduled trips to or departing for South Vietnam, he said. Dan Monaco has already left for South Vietnam.

During Archibald's Washington, D.C., trip, he will meet with Bernie Sisk (Dem.-Fresno), a member of the powerful House Rules Committee. Sisk also will give Archibald an appraisal of recent Vietnam developments.

Archibald, whom Sisk has endorsed for election November 14, as congressman from San Mateo County, will be back in his local district later this week. Archibald said he would resume his active person-to-person political campaign immediately upon his return.

After School Milk Pickup

Nutritionists for the Dairy Council of California agree with nutritionists everywhere that an after school snack is vital to our ever-growing (both numerically and physically) younger generation. Milk is an ideal between-meal food because of its high nutritive values and staying qualities. It picks one up without spoiling dinner-time appetites.

Graham crackers, pretzels, salted crackers or any of the so-called party snacks and, of course, fresh fruits and vegetables are happy additional filler-uppers if you want children to avoid sweets.

With the simple addition of cholcolate or fruit syrup, instant chocolate or other flavored mixes, or a mashed banana, milk becomes a glamour food.

For those skinny ones that Mother would like to fatten up, an eggnog-a-day made the usual way but with half-and-half instead of milk or a scoop of ice cream added will help put extra weight on the underweight child.

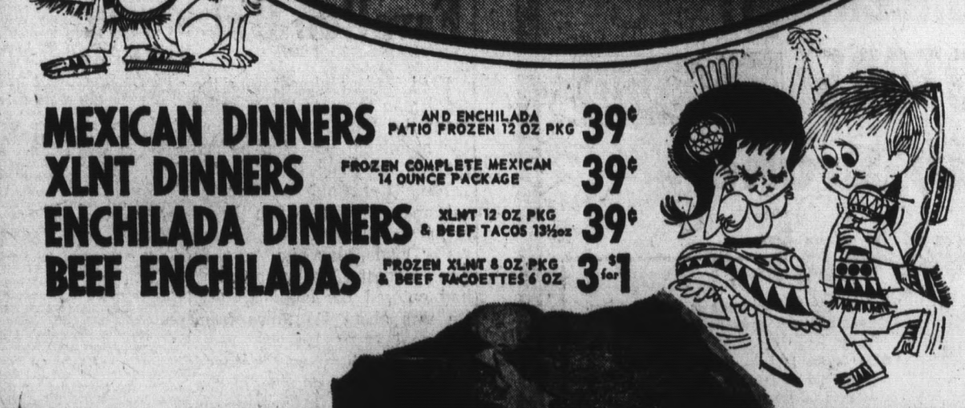

Children love milkshakes and floats so keep ice cream on hand for preparing these really good pick-ups. You might try one yourself if you need some extra energy to finish whatever you're doing.

Bowling Bits

WESTLAKE BOWL

Monday was a night of firsts in the Starliters League as Bev Dikas of Westlake Ton rolled the first two hundred game of her career with a 201. Another first was the first three game sweep of the season by the Gamache Auto team.

Two members of the Southgate Mixed Fives League topped the six hundred mark Tuesday night as Vince Smith shot games of 226-155 and 224 for 605 and Roger Noll posted a 603 series on games of 177-257-169.

Daly City and Bay Area bowlers are looking forward to the Opening Squad of the 9th Annual Daly City PAL Benefit Tournament set for 7:00 p.m. October 14. A gigantic opening squad is expected with many dignitaries. An added feature of this year's tournament is the color television set being offered as a bonus prize.

Ernie Boden topped the Westlake Knolls League for the week with a 602 series on games of 210-177 and 215.

Ray and Phyllis Moore teamed to lead the Otis Elevator League for the week, Ray with 171-454 and Phyllis with a 200 game and 499 series.

Shooting a 230 game and 551 series, Pete Lamb topped the Native Sons League for the week.

For the second consecutive week, Harry Smith led the Golden Gate Handicap League.

Ron Chippari of the Westlake Food Center led the Southwest Handicap League for the week shooting a 207 game and 550 series.

In the Northgate Mixed Fives League, Millie Bell with 202-549 and Bert Guaraglia with 237 and 587 led the scoring for the week.

Two 192 games were high for the week in the Safeway Sleepers League, one by Bob Schwindt and one by Ray Hancock. Top series went to Ray with 519 as Arlene Saput led the ladies with a 183 game and 462 series.

Wednesday October 4 will find an "invasion" of Westlake at noon by the 120 bowlers of the California Trophy Travel League. This popular league bowls at various centers in the Bay Area on Wednesdays at noon.

Jim Pistolesi set a league record Wednesday evening when he rolled a great 703 series in the Ball and Chain Mixed Fives League. Starting with a 255 game, he shot a 245 game and finished with 203. Leadng lady for the evening was Bea Nickel with a 171 game and 506 series.

Doc Kirkhoff once again showed that experience topped youth as he led the Twilight Mixed Fives League with a 224 game and 568 series. On the ladies' side, Jean Smith rolled a 193 game and 507 series to take top honors.

Secretary Joe Maurino topped the bowlers in the 850 American Scracth League with games of 196-191-236 for a 623 series. Second honors went to Frank York who hit a 602 series on games of 217-195 and 190.

Rowena Delucchi topped the two hundred mark as she hit a 202 game and 591 series to lead both men and women in the Lakeside Mixed Fives League. Upholding the honor of the men was Bill Buckley with a 200 game and 567 series.

Dolly Pardini was the leading lady in the Phillips Van Orden League as she rolled a 152 game and 438 series while top honors for the men went to Hank Padia for his 562 series on a high game of 221.

Doreen Daneri "returned home" as she led the Ladies 850 Classic League with a 586 on a high game of 226. A graduate of the Westlake Junior program, Doreen rolled a 300 game last season in the Ladies All Star League in the East Bay.

Leading the Sunset Scavengers League for the week was Bill Chimetti with a 202 game and 559 series.

SERRA BOWL

By BETTY LOU OSTERGREN

Barbara Stewart led the Femme Fatales on their first day with a nice 182-507 series. Coffee Clatcher Marlene Alvarado shot 132 pins over her 140 average when she rolled games of 195-143-214 for a great big series of 552, also on the same league Martha Miller shot 113 pins over her 120 average with 152-151-170 for a 473. Nell Althoff had a nice 188-497 besides converting the 2-10 split.

Just Misses Farallon Bid

Fred Rogers almost was the third man to swim the 28 miles from the Farallon Islands and the mainland, but then he ran into an out-going tide.

The 43-year-old auto parts salesman of South San Francisco was hauled out of the water Wednesday night at 6:30 p.m., almost 18 hours after he had entered the chilly waters. He was about 1½ miles from his goal.

The departure was delayed two hours because one of the boats scheduled to accompany him had compass failure and got lost in the fog.

That was indicative of snafus to come. He was forced to swim through a six-mile school of jellyfish and was stung repeatedly through a double layer of grease. He finally had to take a painkilling pill.

Then came the tide. He could make no progress against it and the exhausted Rogers was taken out of the 55-degree water.

LE PACINI

Here's The Rest Of The Fractured Soap Opera

Those water stains you see on the column this week are tears. Ours. If you read last week's column you may guess why. It made no sense, you say? Had a peculiar ending, you say?

Naturally it did. Somehow the four concluding paragraphs were omitted. Perhaps our editor was trying to tell us something. But no matter. We'll try to finish it now.

As you may remember, it was an attempted fictional satiric piece set in the future and dealing with the inevitable killing of an umpire. Only you never really got to know that because it was the part which was left out. THAT had been our punch ending.

To refresh your memory, as they do in soap operas, colorless Jimmy Kelly, Jr., (son of a Hall of Famer who had tried to mold the boy into his own image) suddenly finds himself thrust into a situation in which he could decide the fate of his team's pennant hopes. In an attempted steal of home plate he's called out by his antagonist Big Bill Guthrie, the greatest umpire who ever lived — in the estimation of Big Bill Guthrie.

Here we pick up the paragraph which was to lead into the omitted concluding paragraphs:

There was a cloud of dust and a hearty, "Yerout," as the imperturbable Clement cooly decided the Fate of Himself, both Kellys, eventually, Kelly Jr.'s team, the opposing team, and all figures connected in all ways with all principals involved. All this despite the fact that the opposing catcher had clearly missed the tag by several inches because of a beautiful baffling slide by Kelly which never received Clement's recognition simply because Clement wasn't aware that the colorless, obscure Kelly was capable of such a slide.

And thus the patricide. Kelly, upon hearing that he had been called out, refused, as always, to argue with the umpire. Instead, he unceremoniously picked the bat out of the hands of the stunned great hitter, and with a lovely, calculated swing, cracked Clement across the head before Big Bill could even re-fold his arms.

It was a clear case of justifiable, psychologically sound homicide, but the jury didn't see it that way.

But one good purpose was served of the episode. Big Bill Clement was enshrined in the Hall of Fame much sooner than he had been expected to be.

So was Kelly's bat.

If you're one of the people who will be asking yourself, this cold winter, what ever became of baseball's "color" you can list pompous executives as one of your reasons.

Case in point: the ordering of television networks not to take pictures of those silly nuts who get their jollies out of running on the field between innings to slide into second base or shake Willie Mays' hand.

Granted, those field-crashing fools can be a nuisance, but they're as much a part of the game as the dog-running-across-the-field or Leo Durocher making an ass of himself. To choose to ignore them is tantamount to saying that only normal people watch baseball games, when we know that isn't true. Why, no normal person in the world would go through the torture of getting to and sitting through a game at Candlestick Park, as an example. In fact, few athletes are normal in the usual sense of the word. How many people do you know who make their living by chasing and hitting and being thrown at by balls while dressed in flannel knickers?

Baseball — none of the great sports — will never die because of wars, famine, pestilence, or Charley Finley.

When baseball dies it will be because of sophistication.

RANDOM NOTES: No, we'll make no World series predictions, mainly because at this writing we don't know who the American League representative will be. Although we figured to weeks ago that Minnesota had the schedule edge.

But as we noted last year, we'll never again make a World Series prediction because of what happened in 1965. We not only picked the Series winner, but picked the Series game by game, named every winning and losing pitcher in correct rotation, and even picked a few of the scores — and then forgot to turn the column in! We could just never surpass that coup. Never again will there be such a perfect combination of luck and stupidity.

If you're wondering how the Giants came as close as they did with sub-performances from Juan Marichal, Bob Bolin, Lindy McDaniel, Tom Haller, Willie McCovey and Willie Mays, remember not only the phenomenal pitching staff, but also the bench, which in years past has often been the big Giant weakness.

Dick Dietz was an admirable fill-in for Haller. Jack Hiatt and Jimmy Davenport were two of the best bench men in he league, especially when pinch-hitting. Bobby Etheridge gave them a lift when they needed it, and unheralded Ty Cline quietly did everything anyone could have expected of him.

With a healthy Juan Marichal, a rejuvinated Willie Mays and a journeyman second baseman, the Giants could take it all next year.

That second baseman, incidentally, could be on the Giant roster. He's Cesar Gutierrez, a good glove who led the Pacific Coast League in hitting this year (.322). He's a shortstop, but then Hal Lanier switched from second to short successfully, so who knows?

Could it be that the old Dodgers are dead? First Maury Wills and Sandy Koufax go, and with them the pitch-and-putt game Walter Alston played; and now we notice that their Texas League pennant winning farm club, Albuquerque, placed seven men among the league's top 10 hitters.

When these kids graduate, about two years hence, will Alston know what to do with them, or will Walter O'Malley have to hire a manager with experience in handling a hitting team.

TAG ENDS: Our annual one-man campaign against something, anything, in the '68 baseball season will concentrate on Russ Hodges' incessant use of the expression, "on the season." Grammatically there's no way to do something "on" a sseason. "For" a season, yes. The pity of it is that many school kids are now using this liberally, in both written and oral work, thinking it's correct.

And if you don't already know — and you should — South San Francisco's Greg Jones is the nation's second leading collegiate rusher.

SSF Bounces Back

Warriors Return To Win Column

By JAN DENKINS
Post Sports Writer

South San Francisco High School's explosive football squad has started on the long road back with the hopes of re-establishing itself as the top prep eleven on the peninsula.

The Warriors, who had a 27-game streak stopped by Capuchino, came back with a vengence Friday night and buried Burlingame High School, 39-12, on the loser's home field.

Turning loose their high-scoring tailback, Russ Cottrell, the revenge-seeking Warriors tallied 32 points before the Panthers could make their first move. Cottrell personally accounted for 24 points, 74 yards rushing and another 47 yards through the air as he single-handedly upset the upset-minded Burlingame squad.

"We were in much better condition this week but, then again, we realize that Burlingame is not as talent-laden as was Capuchino," said coach pro-tem Marv Ashby, filling in for a traction-laden Ray DeJong. "We are getting back our quickness on the lines but we still need more confidence in our passing attack."

The Warriors followed their game plan and let quarterback Willie Ergas go about one quarter. He engineered one TD drive the first time the Warriors touched the ball. A 15-yard penalty on an attempted punt return gave the SSF eleven the ball on Burlingame's 31. Nine plays later from nine yards out Cottrell twisted his way in for the first score.

Ergas opened up a 19-point second period with a one-yard keeper after a 47-yard drive. Then Craig Friar took over the reins and the Warriors really let loose. Short punt yardage all night kept the Panthers in trouble. After being held on their own seven yard line they got only 10 yards out of the punt and the Warriors gobbled up that opportunity by going that distance in five plays with Cottrell running it in the final yard.

Another drive, this one of 55-yards, the next time SSF got possession also ended with Cottrell going in from nine yards out and it was 26-0 at the half.

Both teams went through the motions after intermission and, except for two brief temper flareups that almost saw punches thrown, the game settled down to routine business.

A four-yard punt by Burlingame led to another SSF score early in the third period. The Warriors took possession on the 25 and Ergas immediately went through the air to hit Cottrell for the touchdown that really ended the Panthers' chances.

A fumble by SSF, one of the few mistakes they made Friday night, set up the Panthers' first score in the last period. They drove eight yards in four plays with Jim Turner hitting Grant Hemingway with the scoring toss. The play covered 14 yards after a Burlingame penalty forced the ball back.

SSF came back with a reserve-laden 63-yard drive that ended when Friar smashed in from the one with seven minutes left in the game.

Burlingame ended the festivities with only 45 seconds remaining when Tim Oppezzo ended a 42-yard drive with a one-yard plunge.

The bright spot in the Panther attack had to be the receptions of end Jeff Pecota, who easily outmaneuvered the Warrior secondary for six passes and 67 yards.

"We are young in our secondary," admitted Ashby. "It takes a little time for these boys to accumulate the needed experience. We got a heck of a game from Mike Heeney at linebacker and also from Greg Bregante. Overall, though, I think we will be getting better with each passing week."

Confused Coaches

Vikings Beat Westmoor Hi In 'Baffler'

Two rather disappointed coaches will take their teams back to the classroom this week with the hope that they will learn their lessons better this time.

Actually, one coach, Jim Cox of Mills, has a little more to be happy about — his Vikings defeated the Westmoor Rams, 6-0, in a game that might be never mentioned in the annals of gridiron play.

"We played a real fine defensive game," admitted Cox, "but we certainly need some schooling on offensive blocking and tackling."

A second-quarter, one-yard sneak by Mills' quarterback John England was the deciding play. The Rams, however, had no one to blame but themselves for that score. Westmoor had held the Vikings back on the 23-yard line and forced Mills to punt.

But an elbow, senselessly thrown by an onrushing Ram linemen long after the ball had been kicked, was spotted by the officials and Mills regained possession and continued a 96-yard march downfield. The drive took 20 plays but got the job done.

Meanwhile, the Rams never did get a sustained drive going and appeared confused and jittery whenever on the offensive. They lost an excellent scoring opportunity in the opening minutes of the game when they recovered a Mills' fumble on the 13-yard line. But four plays netted them just seven yards and no score. It was as close as the Rams ever got.

Playing ball control throughout the game, the Vikings relied on the quick breaks of halfback Phil Cleak for the explosive part of their drives.

Westmoor's highly-touted Jim Lewis was bottled up with just 31 yards in 13 tries while power ful Bob Himm bulled his way for 55 yards in 16 tries.

"I can't understand it at all," reflected Ram mentor Pete Matisi. "We still look tight and mixed-up out there. It doesn't make sense."

Terra Nova Tigers March Over Cadets

Terra Nova High School's football team closed out its practice season impressively Friday afternoon with just the right type of prelude to its North Peninsula League season.

Beaten in their opening game, the Tigers bounced back resoundingly with a 41-13 victory over San Rafael Military Academy, nearly scoring touchdowns by the numbers in the process.

Halfback Clancy Smith scored three times for the Coastside crew on a pair of 25-yard runs and another from 18 out. Tiger quarterback Bob Bonner scored once on a 45-yard run and passed 13 and 25 yards to Dave Achziger for Terra Nova's other scores. Rod Henderson got both touchdowns for the Cadets.

THE POST'S SPORTS

Amadio Sparks Mustang Victory

Capuchino High School's football team narrowly survived the rigors of psychology Friday thanks to the heady performance of one Gary Amadio.

The Mustangs, suffering the deleterious effect of a natural let-down after last week's big victory over South San Francisco, scored a 20-12 triumph over Skyline of Oakland for their third practice season win with out defeat.

"It was an extremely sloppy game," Cap Coach Gordy Young said after it had ended. "There were many mistakes and fumbles. I think the players found it hard to get up for this one."

Amadio scored all three Mustang touchdowns, combining for two of them with quarterback Mike Aguzin, who threw scoring tosses of 14 and 30 yards to the swift receiver. Amadio also scored on the most exciting play of the game, an 80-yard kickoff return.

The Mustangs draw a bye next week before they resume play in their Mid Peninsula League debut against Burlingame.

Young stated that split end Dennis Deistler, the team's leading receiver last season, would be ready for the MPL opener after recovering from an injury.

Skyline	6	6	0	0—12
Capuchino	6	14	0	0—20

Scoring: Capuchino—Amadio, 14 pass from Aguzin (kick failed); Sky—Darden, fumble recovery (kick blocked); Cap—Amadio, 80 kickoff return (Kopaschek kick); Sky—Malone, 35 pass interception (kick blocked); Cap—Amadio, 30 pass from Aguzin (Kopaschek kick).

HMB Claims 'Best Back' In League

The rebuilding job engineered by coach Jerry Murphy at Half Moon Bay High School has started to show progress on the football field.

Gaining a tie, 26-all, in their season's opener two weeks ago, the Cougars came back Saturday to blast a highly inept Lick-Wilmerding eleven, 47-0, making it the team's longest winning streak, one in a row, since three-plus years ago. It was also the first varsity win ever for the Cougars since entering the ranks of the North Peninsula League.

But for a man who just accomplished what many thought was an impossibility Murphy was highly critical about the outcome of Saturday's game.

"Doug Goelz and George Landreth, our flanker and tackle, both played exceptional games," he commented. "But we were really sloppy with our blocking and we made entirely too many penalties. We lost the length of the football field to the red flags. We weren't as sharp Saturday as we were against Willits but a win is a win."

Shifty halfback Tony Lampkins, who Murphy insists is the "best back in the league," virtually flew through the LW lines as he ran up 153 yards rushing, added another 63 yards on pass receptions and scored three touchdowns.

It was no contest after the Cougars touched the ball the first time Lampkins was thrown for his only loss on the day on the first play but bounced right back to score on a 39-yard run. Two more quick scores before the quarter ended but the game out of reach of the 20-man visiting squad.

Another 21 points before intermission meant that a running clock was used in the second half. LW's big ground gainer was 5-2 halfback King Moore, who managed just 13 yards in 11 tries. The entire Cougar defense held the visitors to a minus 29 yard rushing all day.

Flag Football League in SSF

the South San Francisco Recreation epartment is organizing flag football teams for fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grade boys leagues at Brentwood, Buri Buri and Orange Memorial Parks, and Hillside Recreation Center, Foxridge School Playground and the Sunshine Gardens School Playground.

Games will be played on Saturday afternoons, with practice sessions on Monday and Wednesday and Friday afternoons.

(Daly City Librarian)

The American West

The great American West from Puget Sound to Tijuana; from San Francisco to the Platte River is a vast uncultivated area in the land of literature.

It's real story awaits to be aired while the moguls of TV and the press turn out "westerns to Zane Grey's formula of a wild struggle between ruthless villains and heroes who are loyal to their friends and chivalrous to their native heroines.

THE WESTERNS are too melodramatic and to predicated upon legend to be considered by readers who want lifelike stories.

Nearly as unsatisfying are the works of the "historians," writers who are too concerned with what their high-priest — Bernard DeVoto — called the "continental picture." In their attempts to link the pioneers and the forty-niners to Daniel Boone and Davie Crockett, they create characters and scenes that can be shifted from Ohio to Idaho with no noticeable harm.

J. Golden Taylor's anthology entitled Great Western Short Stories is a step out of the mud. In the preface Dr. Taylor writes that his anthology is the outgrowth of an informal reading project that grew from his dissatisfaction with the sterotyped views of the West.

"I NEEDED solid evidence," he writes, "That others besides the cowboys had been sufficiently portrayed in true literature; to dispel the odd myth that the cowboy had license of ride his roughshod, gun-slinging way over the whole western literary landscape."

To his delight Dr. Taylor found that there are some writers who deal in authentic pictures of the people who ventured into the West. This led him to resolve to do what he could toward restricting the cowboy to his legitimate range.

The anthology they created shows that Indians, settlers, townspeople, even today's westerners have stories as adventurous and dramatic as those of the stereotyped cowboy or mountain man.

HERE may be found the works of such master story tellers as Walter Van Tilburg Clark, Wallac Stegner, Ray B. West, William Saroyan, John Steinbeck, Mark Twain, Will Henry, Bret Harte and Jack London.

Oliver LaFarge is represented to tell the Indian's side of his continuing struggle with "white-men". Stories by Willa Cather, Juania Brooks and Hamlin Garland constitute a section called Farmers and Townspeople.

Section nine is represented by three stories of the Western wild animals. One of there is Professor Clark's piece about a one-eyed hawk, named Hook, who is forced to fight a rattlesnake.

Great Western Short Stories is a good book to read instead of watching a Saturday night western — even a Sunday night entry.

He'll Be Back!

Frank LaPierre is hunting and fishing in Siskiyou County. His column will be resumed when he returns (hopefully) Next Week.

Franchising Business

Franchising is a booming business. Prudent investors who are considering a franchise offer will investigate before investing. A checklist, which appeared in the Small Business Reporter put out by the Bank of America entitled "The Franchise Business" should prove useful to anyone who may be contemplating buying a franchise.

THE COMPANY 1. How long has the firm been in business? 2. What is its financial strength? 3. What are its plans for future development? 4. How does it rate with the Better Business Bureau? 5. How selective is it in choosing franchises?

THE PRODUCT 1. What is the product's quality? 2. Is it a staple, a fad, a luxury item? 3. Is it seasonal? 4. How well is it selling? 5. Would the franchisee buy it on its merits? 6. Is it priced competitively? 7. Is it packaged attractively? 8. How long has it been on the market? 9. Where is it sold?

THE SALES AREA 1. Is the territory well defined? 2. Is it large enough to offer good sales potential? 3. What are its growth possibilities? 4. What is its income level? 5. Are these fluctuations in income? 6. What is the competition in this area? 7. How are nearby franchisees doing?

THE CONTRACT 1. Does the contract cover all aspects of the agreement? 2. Does it benefit both parties? 3. Can it be renewed, terminated, transferred? 4. What are the conditions for obtaining a franchise? 5. Under what conditions will the franchise be lost? 6. Is a certain size and type of operation specified? 7. Is there an additional fixed payment each year? 8. Is there a percent of gross sales payment? 9. Must a certain amount of merchandise be purchased? 10. Is there an annual sales quota? 11. Can the franchisee return merchandise for credit? 12. Can the franchisee engage in other business activities?

CONTINUING ASSISTANCE 1. Does the franchisor provide continuing assistance? 2. Is there training for franchisees and key employees? 3. Are manuals, sales kits, accounting system supplied? 4. Does the franchisor select store locations? 5. Does he handle lease arrangements? 6. Does he design store layout and displays? 7. Does he select opening inventory? 8. Does he provide inventory control methods? 9. Does he provide market surveys? 10. Does he help analyze financial statements? 11. Does he provide purchasing guides? 12. Does he help finance equipment? 13. Does he make direct loans to qualified individuals? 14. Does he actively promote the product or service? 15. How and where is the product being advertised? 15. What advertising aids does he provide? 16. What is the franchisee's share of advertising costs?

FOOD FOR THOUGHT was the opinion of Bernard (Bud) Lycett, mayor of Daly City, and Maurice Hamilton, mayor of San Bruno, at the kick-off luncheon for the United Bay Area Crusade campaign to raise $16,350,000 which is now in full swing. The mayors here are listening to County Supervisor Jean Fassler speak on behalf of the 176 health and welfare agencies combined in UBAC's one annual appeal. Mrs. Fassler urged total support for the United Crusade appeal as a matter of humane concern for those who need help.

Weaknesses Of Musical

Today when idealism is so strong it would seem that a musical such as "Dumas and Son," would find a sympathetic audience, one that would cheer on the hero to fight for what he believes in. But while everyone talks of love ruling supreme, the subject doesn't shake many foundations and unrequieted love has become passe for a musical plot.

At least it would seem so in the original production fashioned by the Civic Light Opera Association. Oddly enough the musical currently at the Curran Theater has many positive elements, namely the singers, the costumes and sets. But the story is its downfall as it relates a biographical tale about the famous novelist and his estranged, illegitimate son whose brief but sincere love affair with the renowned courtesan leads to the latter's authorship of "La Dame aux Camellias."

The courtesan role was unforgettably assayed by Greta Gabro in film. Equally beautiful and with a voice as captivating as her books, Constance Towers has imbued the dual role as Marie Duplessis and the scorned, consumptive heroine of the novel with the warmth and gentility we associate with the Garbo interpretation.

BUT IN SPITE OF THE PERTINENT COMIC TIMING of Hermoine Gingold and Edward Everett Horton, melliferous operatic voices of New Zelander Inia TeWiata and Frank Porretta, the musical is flat, uninspired, and for the most part, low key. True, it does have some thinly disguised music by Saint-Saens which Robert Wright and George Forrest have liberally borrowed, reworked and de-emphasized. Oliver Smith's settings and Freddy Wittop's costumes make pleasant viewing. It's total effect is sorely lacking in excitement and there isn't one song that stands out as memorable.

Matinee audiences hold it dear. There are visible tears when the house lights go on. For all that, the musical needs extensive rewriting to give it the necessary punch to catapult it to Broadway. Hopefully, this will happen because TeWiata bears hearing and seeing. He plays a robust, jovial reprobate with a voice worthy of a soaring score. While the music is delightful and reminiscent in style of light operas of the forties, neither the score nor the book have dramatic impact.

The relationship between father and son, the senior author who made and lost fast fortunes by his writing of such high spirited novels as "The Three Musketeers" and "The Count of Monte Cristo" and the junior who refused to use his father's name and later matched his popularity in his own writings, is one crisis. The second is the junior's passionate infatuation with a beautiful courtesan who had once been the paramour of his father. Neither contains sufficient emotional involvement to raise the musical out of its confines as a romantic love story.

THERE ARE SOME VERY PLEASANT MOMENTS, especially in the singing. It is doubtful that rewriting will give it more substance but there are those who will find much charm in the opulence and sophistication of the characters and the music.

Our Opinion

Election Reform Again

Election reform is a topic which has given politicians endless mileage with their constituents. If a member of the House or Senate wishes to say something for the record but has temporarily exhausted his repertoire, election reform is always good for an encore.

Election reform is something everyone is in favor of, but nobody ever does anything about. Take the current session of Congress. The Senate has passed unanimously an election reform measure, but the House appears to be hoplessly bogged down in trying to turn the Senate version into something meaningful.

The bill passed by the Senate will never accomplish reform. If for no other reason, it provides for administration of the measure to be put in the hands of the House clerk and Senate secretary who — although entrusted with similar responsibilities in the past — have never reported any violations.

A House version, under consideration by the Administration Committee, would set up a five-member federal elections commission to administer the public disclosure provisions, which are the heart of the proposed bill. Violations would be reported to the Justice Department for prosecution.

Among the main provisions of the House version are an extension of financial disclosures by all candidates to primary contests and conventions, as well as general elections for all presidential, Senate and House nominees. Political committees operating in a single state, now exempt from the law, would be covered under the House version.

The use of political contributions for personal purposes also would be outlawed under the House version, but not under the Senate's. In a number of other ways the House bill is stronger and broader in scope than that of the Senate. If meaningful reform is to be accomplished, it will have to be developed under a plan similar to that proposed in the House.

The Senate bill is nothing but a copy of ineffective measures already on the books.

No Way to Go But Up!

This is a land of free speech and free prophecy, too. Anybody can make guesses about what's going to happen. What's going to happen next to the shape of automobiles?

What are designers going to do now that cars are as low as they can go. Clearly there's only one way for cars to go vertically, and that is up.

Will many more new yearly models come and go before advertisements begin putting delicate emphasis on a person's not having to bend double to enter a car — and on his having plenty of headroom once he's seated? Perhaps there will be quotations from police and highway safety officials similar to this:

"Safety experts tell us that a few extra inches of height for the driver's eyes can mean extra safety when he meets another car coming over a hump in a country road."

Does the pilot of a ship stand his watch on deck, or high up on the bridge? Or in the case of a cabin cruiser, what does the skipper do when he finds it necessary to have a good look around. Why, he goes up to the wheel topside.

And watch for this, too, maybe: "Do you want to stay down among the low boys on the road all your life? Rise above the herd Drive one of the new Toplofties and lift up your head to the future!"

An Italian Comeback

Italian as a course is making a comeback at Jefferson High School in Daly City, a community with a high ratio of citizens of Italian descent.

Isstruction of Italian in the Jefferson foreign language department was resumed this year for the first time since World War II.

A spokesman at Jefferson noted that classroom instruction of Italian was eliminated with the outbreak of that war, when students thought it unwise to sign up for the course as Mussolini took over Italy, for fear of being painted as less than loyal to the United States.

But, many years have passed since then and for the past several months members of the foreign language department have noted an increased interest in Italian.

Three classes have been launched, all being taught by Mrs. Elda Van Note, who is of Italian descent herself and is able to relate to her students the experiences of two trips to Italy.

The class, according to Mrs. Van Note, will be involved in a variety of activities related to the Italian interest that has atraced some 90 pupils.

They will take field trip, tentatively set for Columbus Day, to visit Little Italy in San Francisco, St. Peter and Paul's Church, Fisherman's Wharf, Coit Tower (to see the statue of Columbus donated to The City from Italian commerce) and Ghiradelli Square.

In addition, students will see a monthly movie about Italy.

The World Of Autos

(Ed. note: The automobile is a major cornerstone in the economic structure of the U.S. This is brought home even more dramatically when there is a shutdown, such as confronts the Ford Motor Co. today.

San Mateo County has long ranked among the leaders in the automotive sales field, and it is because of the local industry's importance that The Times today introduces this new column.)

You get a better picture of what automobiles mean to San Mateo county when you look at the figures: Last year, new car sales rung the cash register to the tune of $163,177,000, or almost one-fifth of San Mateo county's total retail sales of $886,306,000.

Latest available figures show that in excess of 7,000 people in this county are employed either in automotive sales or repairs.

Last year there were 256,241 autos registered in San Mateo county, almost equal to all registrations in San Francisco county, where the population is 50 per cent larger.

Toyota will import its 1968 model line into the United States in two phases. The first phase of 1968 Toyota models, all equipped with Toyota's anti-smog system, will begin arriving in the United States later this month.

The second phase, equipped with all of the safety equipment specified for 1968 models by the Federal government, will begin arriving in U.S. ports of entry in late January. Daly City Toyota and Melody Rambler-Toyota are local dealers.

The auto strike, according to Associated Press, has increased, rather than diminished, interest in the new models.

This national pattern has also emerged in San Mateo county, with most local dealers reporting a much better "announcement" than a year ago. "Sales are definitely up," according to Joe Putnam, president of the Burlingame-San Mateo Auto Dealers Associations.

☆

Ford Motor dealers had gala introductions of their 1968 products last Friday and the theme is "business as usual. We have ample stocks of '68 cars so that the public can view the vast changes we have made in our product line-up this year."

☆

Nationwide, Lincoln-Mercury sold 5618 new cars last Friday when the new models were introduced, reports Matt Reis, new co-owner of Metcalf-Meyer Lincoln-Mercury in Burlingame.

☆

Coot —a new, amphibious vehicle for sports, industrial and agricultural markets — is being introduced to the Peninsula by Jones-Minto Ford of Burlingame.

Ken Jones, partner in the dealership, said the vehicle "swims, crawls and twists" over rough and difficult terrain, and is "equally at home on land or water."

☆

New advances in motoring safety and vehicle performance are provided by four lines of Uniroyal tires introduced at a dealer meeting in San Francisco this week, it was reported by John Gile, manager of Uniroyal Home & Auto Center in San Mateo. Uniroyal management have been among leaders in the industry who are urging adoption of state tire inspection programs.

Animal Kingdom, Sign Sceneums

AS WE looked out the large window Monday evening, watching the rain pour and the wind blow, we couldn't help but think of an old saying that someone attempted to instill in us:

"When all other news sources dry up, try the weather!"

The recollection is that this was meant to be caution rather than a directive.

Yet, we have been listening to the souls walk in and out talking about nothing but the weather — our first decent storm of the "season."

So, it must be worth mentioning . . . and besides, look how much space we just filled.

THEN IT is on to other items of one degree of value or another. . . .

The signs — At the Serra Theatre, on Junipero Serra Boulevard, Daly City: "Naked Runner—Not With My Wife You Don't"!

The Animal Kingdom — the scenum on Park Plaza, as a white kitten nibbled away on a huge chunk of meat that had fallen, apparently, from some vehicle. The feline ate and ate, its table the middle of the road, as motorists calmly (Yeah? Some drivers are NEVER calm!) idled by until someone moved the meat, and the cat, to the sidewalk.

And at the Mayfair Market, also on Junipero, the contented blackbird flighting and walking about inside, apparently not wanting to make the exit it'd had several opportunities to do so.

One liquor section customer wanted to know if the bird was really "Old Crow."

Sportsy Corner — Bob St. Clair, large-size supervisor, had extremely good luck up in Mendocino County's scenic wilds — bagged himself a four-point buck, he says . . . .

AND a 200-pound wild boar!

Politics — A Whitmore-for-Congress aide, referring to Frank LaPierre's column last week, in which he said a poll showed Shirley T. Black to be leading the pack, noted, "We have a poll, too." With Whitmore on top, natch. . . .

Mayors' Council Skeptical Of ABAG Plans

By VERN KROGH

The San Mateo Council of Mayors proved one thing last week at a lengthy meeting at the Villa Chartier in San Mateo.

That was that it can approve little—especially the planning of future of the county.

This was about the only general conclusion one could draw after James Hickey, a planning director of the Association of Bay Area Governments, spoke on the status of a future master plan for Bay Area regional government.

Unfortunately, as it turned out, Hickey admitted that the plan as it now stands "is preliminary in every aspect of the word," and agreed that "no real statements of goals can be made now."

As to future growth, Hickey told the assembled mayors, no adequate statistics are yet available. For example, he said, Marin County had foreseen itself as a low density area, while it will be one of the most densely populated areas in the Bay region.

"San Mateo County," Hickey declared, will "continue to level off."

The main problem, as outlined by the professional planner, is, "Will the Bay Area be a "central city" or a string of "new cities?"

Ever green, open areas, he indicated, are impossible to designate, except such publicly owned lands as the San Francisco Water Department property in San Mateo County.

Drawing statistics from the Bay Area Rapid Transit District in 1965, Hickey said, Santa Rosa in Marin County was seen as a small, compact community; now it is spread all over. The same is true in Walnut Creek and Santa Clara County.

In previous projections, Hickey indicated, there was no real effort to join various efforts, but with a half-million cars being added, not only will a second Bay crossing be needed, but a southern crossing as well.

Until 1970, Hickey reported, migration will be the biggest factor in Bay Area growth. After that, he said, our population will regenerate itself.

Take Back

Discussing the problem of refuse, Hickey informed the city leaders there is no real solution.

After Hickey admitted that much of ABAG's projections were made on already outdated data, the mayors virtually rejected the county's own regional planning committee, made up of local city and county representatives and decided to take back the question of future growth to individual city councils and work over the problem once again.

Despite a warning by Councilman Frank P. Pacelli of Daly City that a current general plan takes little regard of the people, Hickey cautioned that there is a cutoff date at which the Bay Area must decide upon its own future.

"These lines," he warned, "must be clean; they must not be fuzzy. We must decide on urban or decentralized development."

It was San Mateo Mayor John J. Murray who first questioned if all present plans are not already antiquated.

He noted that Bay fill plans already rejected are included in the ABAG's projections for the future.

Concepts

Hickey answered that because ABAG had to begin its studies in 1965, it had to make certain assumptions.

"The first of the reports we put together we put in Bay front developments," Hickey explained. "This was 24 months ahead of schedule. These were merely concepts. You can't put off this sort of thing until you get specific requirements. But, I hope you will consider this plan seriously. This provided a frame of reference to aid you. It is nothing mandatory."

Councilman Maurice K. Hamilton of San Bruno suggested rather than let a master plan be adopted by default all the cities give the regional planning committee an advisory opinion.

"The fundamental decisions must be made by cities," Mayor William R. Lawson of Menlo Park added. "We are imposing an artificial body such as ABAG between the individual cities and counties. The final decision must be made by the individual cities. You are asking me to give someone a blank check."

"We should go back to home rule," said Mayor Werner H. Diederichsen of Burlingame, chairman of the mayors' group.

A motion by Murray that the question be taken back to individual city councils and another report made to the mayors' council was carried.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

Small cavities in the teeth can be filled more easily and with less discomfort than large ones.
If decay is neglected it leads to infection and abscess formation. An infected tooth is a hazard to good health and often must be removed.
A tooth that has been lost should be replaced by an artificial one. If it is not, the other teeth will shift. This shifting may lead to more decay and to diseases of the gums.
Irregular placement of the teeth should be corrected for many reasons: To improve appearance, speech, and the ability to chew foods and to help prevent other dental diseases.
Have your dentist check for cavities and follow his recommendations if treatment is needed.

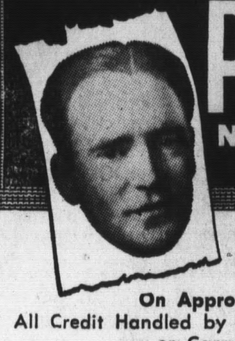

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extraction for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth. Dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Trucker has 'Terror' Ride' On Pacifica Highway

James Wade Baker took a nerve-shuddering trip down narrow, winding Sharp Park Road in Pacifica last Wednesday when brakes failed on his truck, loaded with steel wire.

The 21-year-old Baker suffered only cuts and bruises of the shoulders and arms, even though the truck left the roadway and plunged over an embankment down onto a Sharp Park Golf Course parking lot.

Baker's truck, which was demolished, came to rest on its right side after striking two parked cars, neither of which was damaged heavily.

Pacifica police patrolman Ed Ulrich said it was approaching 1 p.m. when Baker, who lives in Santa Clara, drove his truck over the crest of Sharp Park Road, westbound.

About halfway down—three-quarters of a mile from the bottom o' the grade, Ulrich estimated—the brakes gave out and Baker found himself trying to control a free-wheeling truck as it sped dangerously down the steep, narrow and twisty road.

Patrolman Ulrich commended Baker for an "excellent job" of controlling the truck.

Had Baker jumped from the vehicle, Ulrich noted in his report, "loss of life or extreme property damage" could have resulted.

Ulrich had to assist Baker from the cab of his truck because of the driver's shoulder injuries, which though apparently painful were not serious enough to require hospitalization.

Baker received emergency treatment at Mary's Help Hospital, but not admitted. X-rays of his shoulder proved negative, a hospital spokesman said.

The load of wire was scattered all along the road and on the parking lot.

Baker is employed by the Northwestern Steel Company of Santa Clara. That firm owned the truck.

Pacifica firemen were summoned to the scene, but they were not needed. They stood by, in case there was a gasoline leak, until the truck was righted and moved.

Westmoor Hi Has Election Of Officers

Freshmen elections were held at Westmoor, September 22. This semester's officers are president, Howard Kaplan; vice president, Harold Lorber; secretary, Cindy Johnson; treasurer, Nubia Delgado.

Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Zane Kaplan who reside at 35 Lakeview Drive, is very active in both tennis and basketball at Westmoor. Last year at Ben Fraklin, he was president of the eighth grade. "As president I want to stimulate more spirit and participation in the frosh class," said Howard.

Assisting as parlimentarian at Benjamin Franklin, Harold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lorber, of 80 Fairlawn Court, said he would try to help the president and the class in any way he could."

Formerly a cheerleader at Benjamin Franklin and a Student Council representative, Cindy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Johnson, who reside at 154 Westlawn Avenue. She is also a member of Job's Daughters.

Nubia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Salvador Delgado, who reside at 1329 Southgate Avenue. "Holding an office is wonderful," said Nubia.

Westmoor High School seniors elected four novices to guide them this semester including, Don Weiden, president; Phil Walker, vice president; Carri Cauchi, secretary; and Jan Schroth, treasurer.

Don, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weiden, of 33 Westdale Avenue, represented Westmoor at Boys' State last summer. He is a member of Block W, C.S.F., and received the prize for being the outstanding chemistry student. Hoping to attend the University of California at Berkeley, Don wants to get a paper drive organized this semster, to earn money for the senior class.

Vice President Phil Walker has been playing drums since 1958. He is a member of the Folk Rock Group called the Axiom Trio. Sai Phil, "By doing things together the senior class will be able to get anywhere." Phil is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Walker, who reside at 1248 South Mayfair.

Carrie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Cauchi of 836 Wildwood Drive, social conveyor to the United Presbyterian Youth Group and a senior Girl Scout, says, "I want to make sure everyone finds out the things that are happening."

Jan Schroth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Schroth who reside at 801 Southgate. Jan is a member of G.A.A. and has made the Honor Roll. She is a member of both the German Drama clubs.

Jeff Opens Auto Shop

The Jefferson Union High School District, Adult Education Division, announces the opening of a new section of Auto Shop on Monday evenings from 7 to 10.

The increasing demand for skills in automotive crafts and services has lead to the introduction of this new section. Many of the students who were unable to be enrolled in the Wednesday night Auto Section will find a place in the new Monday evening section.

George Chrestionson, longtime automotive mechanics teacher of Westmoor High School, will lead the new Monday evening section, already underway at Jefferson High School, 6996 Mission Street, Daly City.

Coast Scouts Are Cited

Certificates are being presented to members of four troops of the Portola Boy Scout District for their participation in the American Cancer Society Drive earlier this year. Boys of Troops. No. 264, No. 257, No. 136 and No. 399 collected more than $250 and every boy of each troop is being acknowledged for a "job well done" by the certificates from the San Mateo County Branch of the American Cancer Society.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

1. Notice is hereby given that the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, will receive sealed bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation, and services required for

ADDITIONS AND ALTERATIONS TO EXISTING STEAM GENERATING EQUIPMENT AT CRYSTAL SPRINGS REHABILITATION CENTER, 1100 Polhemus Road, San Mateo, California, for the COUNTY OF SAN MATEO.

2. Instructions for bidders, bid forms, specifications and contract documents may be examined at the office of the County Purchasing Agent, Redwood City, California. All bids shall be submitted in accordance with the requirements and conditions of said documents, including such bid bonds as may be required.

3. Drawings, specifications and contract documents may be examined and copies obtained at the office of the County Purchasing Agent, Redwood City, California, upon deposit of $10.00 for said documents, which deposit will be forfeited if the Contractor fails to return the Specifications in good condition within ten (10) days of the bid opening date.

4. Bids shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo at the Hall of Justice and Records, Redwood City, California, on or before the 10th day of OCTOBER, 1967, at 2:00 P.M. and will be opened in public in the Chambers of said Board of Supervisors at or about 2:00 P.M. of that day in said Hall of Justice and Records.

5. Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California, or local law applicable thereto, the Board of Supervisors has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which this work is being performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute this contract which will be awarded the successful bidder. All laborers, workmen or mechanics employed by the successful bidder or his sub-contractors shall be paid not less than said prevailing rates in the execution of this contract.

6. The prevailing rates so determined as follows are based on an eight hour day, forty hour week, except as otherwise noted. Existing agreements between the building trades and the construction industry groups relative to overtime, holidays and other special provisions shall be recognized.

The rates of prevailing wages determined by the Board of Supervisors are as follows:

WAGE RATES

CRAFT	PER HOUR
Asbestos Workers	$6.90
Electrical Workers	6.12
Iron Workers	5.98
Laborers (Group No. 1)	4.425
Plumbers	5.945
Sheet Metal	5.45
Dump Trucks	4.58

FOR ANY WAGE RATE NOT LISTED HEREIN FOR OTHER BUILDING CRAFTS, SAN MATEO COUNTY WAGE RATES WILL APPLY.

A bond will be required for the faithful performance of the contract in amount of not less than One Hundred Per Cent (100%) of the amount of the bid, and a bond will be required to guarantee the payment of wages for services engaged and all bids contracted for materials used in the performance of the contract in an amount of not less than One Hundred Per Cent (100%) of the bid.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF TIME AND PLACE FOR HEARING ON WHETHER OR NOT COUNTY SERVICE AREA NO. 8 (SUGARLOAF COUNTY SERVICE AREA) SHALL BE ESTABLISHED

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a public hearing shall be held on the 26th day of OCTOBER, 1967, at the hour of 11:00 o'clock A.M., at the Chambers of the Board of Supervisors in the Hall of Justice and Records, Redwood City, California, on the question of whether or not a county service area for extended police protection, structural fire protection, local park, recreation or parkway facilities and services, highway lighting facilities and services, sewerage facilities and services, water facilities and services, flood control, storm drainage and refuse disposal services shall be established pursuant to Section 25210.1 et seq. of the Government Code in the hereinafter described unincorporated territory of the County of San Mateo, State of California.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that at said public hearing the testimony of all interested persons or taxpayers for or against the establishment of the area, as a county service area, the extent of the area, or the furnishing of extended police protection services, structural fire protection, local park, recreation or parkway facilities and services, highway lighting facilities and services, sewerage facilities and services, water facilities and services, flood control, storm drainage and refuse disposal services to the area, including protests orally or in writing thereto, will be heard and considered.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the following is the text of Resolution No. 24381 of the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, adopted by the said Board on the 26th day of SEPTEMBER, 1967, instituting proceedings for the establishment of a county service area for extended police protection services, structural fire protection, local park, recreation or parkway facilities and services, highway lighting facilities and services, sewerage facilities and services, water facilities and services, flood control, storm drainage, and refuse disposal services in the hereinafter described territory:

RESOLUTION NO. 24381
BOARD OF SUPERVISORS, COUNTY OF SAN MATEO, STATE OF CALIFORNIA

RESOLUTION OF INTENTION TO INSTITUTE PROCEEDINGS FOR ESTABLISHMENT OF COUNTY SERVICE AREA NO. 8 (SUGARLOAF COUNTY SERVICE AREA)

RESOLVED, by the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, that

WHEREAS, a sufficient petition has been received by this Board requesting the formation of COUNTY SERVICE AREA NO. 8 and describing the proposed boundaries of said service area; and

WHEREAS, said petition requests that said county service area provide extended police protection, structural fire protection, local park, recreation or parkway facilities and services, highway lighting facilities and services, sewerage facilities and services, water facilities and services, flood control, storm drainage and refuse disposal services for the said area;

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED AND DETERMINED that:

1. A county service area comprising the lands described in Exhibit "A" attached hereto, which is referred to and incorporated herein as though set forth at length, is proposed to be established in the unincorporated area of San Mateo County, and it is the intention of this Board of Supervisors to establish the area as a county service area for the purpose of providing extended police protection, structural fire protection, local park, recreation or parkway facilities and services, highway lighting facilities and services, sewerage facilities and services, water facilities and services, flood control, storm drainage and refuse disposal services.

2. The name proposed for the area is "COUNTY SERVICE AREA NO. 8 (SUGARLOAF COUNTY SERVICE AREA)."

3. It is proposed to provide within the area extended police protection, structural fire protection, local park, recreation or parkway facilities and services, highway lighting facilities and services, sewerage facilities and services, water facilities and services, flood control, storm drainage and refuse disposal services, and except where funds are otherwise available from service charges collected pursuant to Section 25210(a), a tax sufficient to pay for all such services which are furnished on an extended basis will be annually levied upon all taxable property within the area.

4. A public hearing on the establishment of the area will be held at the Chambers of this Board of Supervisors at the Hall of Justice and Records, Redwood City, California, on the 26th day of OCTOBER, 1967, at 11:00 o'clock A.M.

5. The Clerk of this Board of Supervisors shall be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed to publish notice of said public hearing pursuant to Section 6061 of the Government Code in the SAN MATEO POST, a newspaper of general circulation published in the County of San Mateo in the form and manner provided by Section 25210.16 of the Government Code.
